Man Arrested In Bargain Sale Of Tools Here

A 34-year-old man who sold expensive tools in Pottstown at bargain prices had three witnesses of the transaction whom he didn't know about—two Jeffersonville State policemen and the chief of plant protection at Bethlehem Steel company's Pottstown plant.

As a result of his bargain sale, Norman Diffenderfer, Frackville, Schuylkill county, was in prison yesterday charged with stealing $7000 worth of equipment belonging to the steel company's Pottstown erection headquarters.

His arrest was reported yesterday by H. Robert Hoppe, the plant protection chief, and Jeffersonville State Police Sgt. Thomas V. Devlin, who with Trooper Chester T. Krupiewski worked together for five days in "breaking" the case.

The Pottstown erection staff was putting a bridge across the Lehigh in Fullerton, Lehigh county, when it was victimized by two major thefts—one of $4000 worth of equipment and tools, the second of $3000 worth.

The thief broke open a huge tool chest and carried the heavy tools (some weighed up to 50 pounds) along a narrow catwalk to reach his car.

Hoppe got on the trail in Pottstown when he learned that a young man was trying to sell specialized "impact wrenches" to a Pottstown businessman. Impact wrenches were among the things stolen from the erection crew.

What made it still more interesting was that the man was offering to sell the wrenches—which normally cost $405 apiece—for $50 apiece.

THE POTTSTOWN plant protection chief, a former State trooper, called on Sgt. Devlin for aid. Donning civilian clothes, Devlin and Krupiewski joined Hoppe in being on hand when the man returned to Pottstown to sell the tools to

Truck Crash Starts 'Gas' Pump Flaming

A woman with five children in her car stopped for gasoline yesterday morning at a Stowe service station on Route 422 and saw a nearby gasoline pump burst into flame when it was knocked over by a meat truck.

Fearful that the fire might explode the station's big gasoline tank, she drove away from the pump at which she was stopped.

The hose nozzle was firmly in the car's "gas" tank. The car pulled over the second pump by its hose.

The burning tank didn't cause an explosion, State Highway department crewmen who shoveled snow, and West End Fire company crewmen who used chemicals, extinguished

Legion Banquet, School Assembly Are Scheduled

SOME BUSINESSES HERE WILL REMAIN CLOSED

Pottstown's observance of Armistice Day, 1953, will be highlighted tomorrow with a parade sponsored by George Amole Post 47, American Legion.

Programs commemorating the day also will be presented at a Legion banquet and an assembly at Pottstown High school.

Business activities will slacken somewhat with most Government offices being either closed or keeping curtailed business hours.

The Pennsylvania State Employment service and the liquor store will be closed.

Postmaster Alfred J. Marquet reported that the postoffice lobby will be open for one hour, from 8 to 9 a. m., for stamp purchases and registry.

"We'll have a skeleton crew working on mail on the inside," Marquet said, "but there will be no window service with the exception of the two windows for that one hour."

REGULAR Wednesday banking hours, from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m., will be kept by local banks.

A W. Millard, Legion vice commander, announced details of the parade which is scheduled to begin at 10 a. m. at the post home, King and Franklin streets.

Taking part in the parade together with the Legion will be members of Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Navy club.

The Pottstown High school band and the Junior High school band will provide the music for the march. The drill teams also will appear.

FROM ITS starting point at the Legion home, the parade is scheduled to proceed along King street to York street; on York over to High, and along High street to the memorial monument in front of the postoffice, where ceremonies will be held.

Warren M. Eshbach, a Junior High school pupil, will present the Armistice Day address in the ceremonies.

Besides Millard, others serving on the Legion committee for the day are Clarence Fox, chairman, Herbert Jones, William Wagner and Elmer Haas.

Weather Outlook Calls For Chance of Rain

There once was a poet who said, "If Winter comes, can Spring be far behind?"

One thing's sure, he wasn't talking about Pottstown area conditions—not after the week-end whitewash.

That was sort of a sneak attack, though, and chances are everyone will be better prepared for the next one, when there is a next one.

Today, however, the outlook is for temperatures from 46 to 52 and some cloudiness overhead, with a possibility of rain. Tomorrow, the prediction is cloudy and cool, with chance of rain.

The crewmen didn't have to use any snow plows; they just kept catch basins clear and tried to make things less slushy at places used by mid-borough shoppers and bus-riders.

The only problem encountered, Gulden noted, was water that backed up at a few intersections, particularly High and York streets. This was caused by cars' damming the flow of water along curbs.

Fund Drive Lags; Report Postponed

By FRED C. SELBY (Mercury Staff Writer)

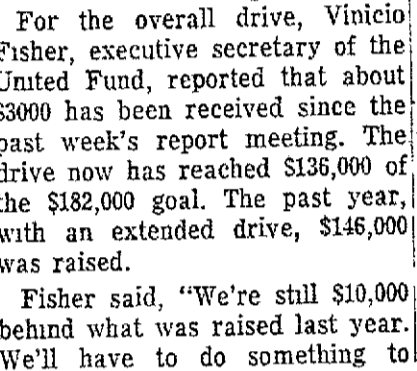

The final United Fund drive report session, which it had been hoped would be a victory meeting, has been postponed a week until Nov. 18 to give workers more time to push the lagging drive toward the top.

Howard W. Bartholomew, campaign chairman, announced the postponement yesterday, shortly after reports from ten team captains of the important classified division indicated that the drive was still far short of its $182,000 goal.

The classified division, which includes such classifications as business, doctors, clubs and schools, has reached only $35,000 of its $51,000 quota.

For the overall drive, Vincio Fisher, executive secretary of the United Fund, reported that about $8000 has been received since the past week's report meeting. The drive now has reached $136,000 of the $182,000 goal. The past year, with an extended drive, $146,000 was raised.

Fisher said, "We're still $10,000 behind what was raised last year. We'll have to do something to make people aware that this thing is really dragging its feet.

"We need more participation," Fisher said, "and more fair-share giving."

He explained that many people, while they have contributed, have not contributed nearly their personal quota.

He pointed out that this year's quota is 25 percent above the sum raised the past year.

"You just don't give the same dollar and get a much bigger package," he noted.

"If this United Fund is going to work," Fisher warned, "the people of Pottstown will have to support it. Either that, or we'll just go back to having each organization conduct its own drive."

While noting that the drive was lagging, Fisher emphasized that Fund workers have done a generally good job of contacting prospects. It isn't that the people haven't been reached once; it's that they haven't responded.

Fisher said he hoped that some (Continued on Last Page)

The announcement was made last night by Dr. George A. McCormick, superintendent of schools in Pottstown, at a school board meeting.

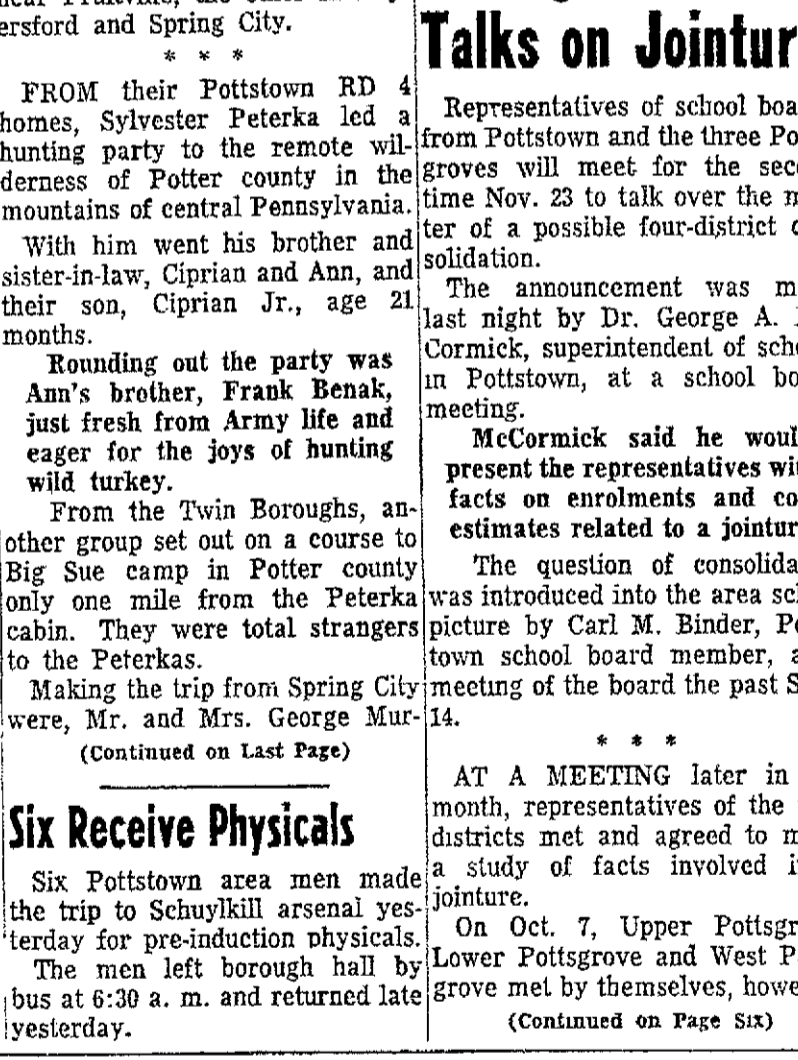

McCormick said he would present the representatives with facts on enrolments and cost estimates related to a jointure.

The question of consolidation was introduced into the area school picture by Carl M. Binder, Pottstown school board member, at a meeting of the board the past Sept. 14.

AT A MEETING later in the month, representatives of the four districts met and agreed to make a study of facts involved in a jointure.

Council Given Revised Zoning Code for Study

By ROBERT E. HOYER (Mercury Staff Writer)

Pottstown's oft-criticized zoning ordinance was put on the chopping block last night.

Copies of a revised zoning law were presented councilmen who voted to conduct a hearing on the new ordinance Dec. 28.

Members will digest the proposed 38-page law, passed out by Horace Y. Seidel, chairman of the planning and zoning commission, and decide on its merit at the year-closing Dec. 28 session.

The suggested new ordinance is the product of the borough zoning review committee and the government consulting service of the Institute of local and State Government, University of Pennsylvania.

The proposed law is the result of increasing criticism hurled at the zoning code of 1945.

The ordinance of 1945 has been called obsolete.

It has been the cause of numerous requests for exceptions before the zoning board of adjustment.

Meeting Is Asked To Air Problem Of Smutty Matter

Council requested a meeting between Solicitor C. Edmund Wells, council President William H. Reifsnnyder, Sixth ward, and Burgess William A. Griffith, with Pottstown Ministerial association.

Secretary William S. Shaeffer read a letter from the association seeking the support of council in ridding the borough of what it termed smutty literature.

W. Mark Henricks, Tenth ward, asked that the burgess, council president and solicitor arrange a meeting with the ministerial association.

Reifsnnyder assured his colleagues the problem would not be solved in "one night or one meeting."

IN THE event the meeting carries into next year, beyond the terms of Reifsnnyder and Griffith, their replacements will continue to serve on the committee.

Police Committee Chairman Earl R. Strange said, "I believe the solicitor can explain the law. I don't believe the police department has the authority to determine what is and what isn't smut. It is my understanding any individual can swear out a warrant for the sale of what is believed to be smutty literature."

Hilldale, once a place called home by more than 1000 persons, lunched a day closer to the wrecking tools and dismantling crews on council floor last night.

Rival Flagg Union Postpones Plans For Quick Election

The independent Steelworkers' federation has canceled plans for a quick election among Stanley G. Flagg and company workers and now is aiming at having the election in eight months.

This was reported yesterday by Andrew Kondrath, Reading, international president of the federation, which opened an organizing drive among Flagg's workers shortly before the strike was settled two weeks ago.

Flagg's workers are represented by Local 2326, United Steel Workers (CIO).

Kondrath said the federation has fallen short of its immediate goal of having 51 percent of the workers signed up with the federation. He said the total now is approximately 33 percent.

The federation still is aiming at 51 percent, he added. It wants to get the 51 percent signed before the Flagg's contract is reopened on June 1, 1954. The contract runs until Aug. 1.

Kondrath said that 30 percent of the workers must have signed in order for the union to petition for a National Labor Relations board election. The federation is seeking 51 percent, he explained, "Because we won't call for an election unless we feel sure of winning it."

Hilldale Moves Step Closer to Wreckers

Hilldale, once a place called home by more than 1000 persons, moved a day closer to the wrecking tools and dismantling crews on council floor last night.

Secretary William S. Shaeffer read a letter from the Public Housing administration, New York city, which reported the Montgomery County Housing authority has requested immediate action to dispose of the low-rent project.

BROWNELL SAYS TRUMAN HAD 'FULL NOTICE'

Attorney General Broadens Sweep Of Charge

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Att. Gen. Brownell said today FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover gave "full and adequate notice" of Harry Dexter White's "spying activities" to the White House, four cabinet officers and four other high officials of the Truman Administration.

Thus Brownell broadened the sweep of his charge that former President Truman promoted the late treasury official to represent this country in the international monetary fund in the face of two FBI reports that White was a Soviet spy. Truman has denied the charge and accused Brownell of playing politics.

The first FBI report, Brownell said in a statement, was sent not only to the White House but also to Tom C. Clark, then attorney general and now on the Supreme court, former secretary of State James F. Byrnes, the late James V. Forrestal, former secretary of Defense, and the late Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson, who was secretary of the Treasury at the time.

Copies also were dispatched, Brownell said, to Adm. William D. Leahy, who was personal chief of staff to the President, Lt. Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg as chief intelligence officer of the War Department, Assistant Secretary of State Spruille Braden, and Fred Lyon, a State department division chief.

SOVIET URGED TO NEGOTIATE

Lodge Asks Honesty On Disarmament Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP)—American Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. urged the rulers of the Soviet Union today to change their mind and attitude and negotiate honestly for genuine disarmament.

At the same time, V. K. Krishna Menon, Indian delegate, presented to the 60-Nation UN Political committee a watered down version of his peace plan outlined in a speech to the Assembly in September.

Menon proposed that the Assembly express its desire for the elimination of atomic, bacterial and chemical weapons and all such means of mass destruction. He also urged that the United States, Britain, France, the Soviet Union and Canada conduct private and secret talks on disarmament.

Speaking in the political committee, Lodge attacked the Soviet proposals for disarmament as "discredited nostrums." He pledged the United States to dedicate itself with renewed vigor to all efforts in the disarmament commission to achieve agreement on a comprehensive disarmament program.

"If all members of the disarmament commission, and particularly the Soviet Union, concretely demonstrate an equal desire to negotiate honestly and sincerely on the substance of these disarmament issues, then we can make progress," Lodge said.

Background on Harry Dexter White Accused of Being Communist Spy

(Condensed From Associated Press)

Henry Dexter White spent 14 years in the Treasury department and eventually became an assistant secretary. He entered government service in 1934.

He went over to the monetary fund in 1946 and died in 1948, a week after denying to the House un-American Activities committee that he had any connection with a Soviet espionage ring. The committee had received testimony from former Communists Whitaker Chambers and Elizabeth Bentley that he was linked to such a network.

He resigned from government service April 8, 1947, and then became executive director for the United States on the International Monetary Fund he had helped create. It was the creation of the fund that brought him international fame.

Brownell's latest statement said that when Truman went ahead and announced White would be named to the monetary fund, the FBI got up "a special report concerning Harry Dexter White and his espionage activities." He said Justice department records show this second report was delivered to Vaughan on Feb. 4, 1946, for the attention of the President. Brownell said copies went to Clark and Lyon, who was the State department's security officer.

The Senate confirmed the White appointment Feb. 6, 1946.

Vaughan has been summoned to testify Thursday before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee headed by Senator Jenner (R-Ind). And chairman Velde (R-III) said tonight the un-American activities committee also wants to quiz the general.

Velde said Vaughan was quietly subpoenaed for today but the summons was postponed until Thursday and he will try in the meantime to work a way out of avoiding a conflict with the Jenner committee's inquiry.

TRUMAN SILENT UNTIL RIGHT TIME COMES

Ex-President Tells Reporters No Comment

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman told a news conference today he may speak out on the Harry Dexter White case—"when the right time comes."

Reporters asked Truman about a purported statement by Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind) that an FBI report listing White, Alger Hiss and others as Soviet spies was handed to the President in 1945.

"I have no comment to make on that," Truman replied. "I don't like to be too heavy-handed with you fellows about that. Maybe when the right time comes I'll have something to say about that."

Attorney General Brownell said the past week Truman, as President, promoted White after the FBI had sent him a report that the late Treasury official was a spy.

Truman arrived here by train to receive the American Jewish Congress' Stephen Wise award for Civil Rights at a Hotel Roosevelt dinner.

As reporters besieged him for comment on the White case, Truman told them:

"You're just wasting your time, I have no comment."

At another point, he pleaded: "Why do you try to pin me down, so I'm just a visitor here. Treat me kindly."

As to whether he wants to tell his side of the story to a congressional committee, Truman said: "No comment—I'm a former President of the United States."

Kidnaped Baby Is Restored to Parents; Strip Teaser Nabbed

HUGO, Okla., Nov. 9 (AP)—A sudden climax to a weekend kidnaping today restored a chubby five-month-old Indiana boy to his parents and put his 17-year-old baby sister behind bars vowing she loved the child and would get him back sometime.

Mrs. Tommie Dene Doughty, a former carnival strip teaser with a mother complex, was arrested shortly before midnight by the FBI and six hours later she was charged with kidnaping Richard Lee Stammer from his Evansville, Ind., home.

The neatly-dressed brunet did not enter a plea and was turned over to a US deputy marshal for transportation to the Muskogee, Okla., Federal jail. Her bond was placed at $20,000 by US Commissioner D. A. Stovall.

Meanwhile, the elated parents, Richard Duane Stammer, 26, a sailor, and his wife, Shirley, 18, flew from their home to Durant, 54 miles west of here, to claim their baby. The child, being cared for by the wife of an FBI agent at Durant, was none the worse for two days and two nights of traveling by bus and hitchhiking in freezing weather.

Mrs. Doughty was taken into custody shortly after she arrived at the Red River valley farm home of her father, north of Bokchita in southeast Oklahoma.

Big Three Meeting Set for Bermuda

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—A Government official said tonight that President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Churchill of Great Britain and Premier Laniel of France are planning to meet soon to discuss the world situation, probably in Bermuda.

This official, who asked not to be named, said no date has been fixed for the Big Three conference. He indicated, however, that the session probably will be held very soon.

US, British and French differences with Soviet Russia undoubtedly would be one topic of discussion at such a meeting.

That topic, as well as differences which have arisen among the Big Three powers, was high on the agenda for an Eisenhower-Churchill-Laniel conference scheduled for Bermuda the past July.

That meeting was postponed because of Churchill's illness. The Prime Minister now has returned to the job.

The White House always has emphasized that the July meeting was postponed and not canceled. Detailed plans which were drawn up by the three nations for the Bermuda session are still ready to be put into effect quickly.

US Reported Ready To Use 'Buddies' for POW Explanations

PANMUMJOM, Tuesday, Nov. 10 (AP)—The US Army may use sergeants, corporals and even some old buddies as "explaners" when it begins its own "come home" talks with 22 Americans, possibly early next month.

Since the United Nations Command feels that all but a handful of these prisoners are confused, unhappy dupes of the Communists, the idea is to make the interviews as friendly and reassuring as possible.

None of this information is official yet. But from bits and pieces of information gathered here and there it is possible to sketch out roughly present thinking on the subject.

There is no final plan to use sergeants or corporals, but it is believed that levelheaded noncoms, particularly old friends, might have more influence than strange officers.

THE UNITED NATIONS Repatriation group knows on good authority that the Reds have been priming the 22 to expect officers and to bait them.

The exact time the American explanations will begin also had not yet been decided but the first of December, give or take a week, is a good bet.

One reason for delaying the interviews is that with the small number of men to be interviewed, it will be possible—unless the prisoners duplicate the violence of the anti-Communists—to take considerable pains with each man.

This means doing a good research job on each one, contacting friends and families, getting letters, recorded messages on tape, and obtaining anything to relieve him of his fears.

A second reason is that by delaying, the prisoners are going to have more time to think their problem out.

Some may return of their own will, as happened in the case of Corp. Edward S. Dickenson of Cracker's Neck Va., who came back Oct. 21.

Bad Winter Ahead, Almanac Warns

BOSTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—The 1954 edition of the Old Farmer's almanac, warns of a turbulent winter—a warning backed up by its accurate description of the early November storm which struck the East coast Friday and Saturday.

The almanac was in preparation for months before snow, rain, gales and wind-whipped tides struck the East coast Nov. 6, but it predicted "at least one spanking northeast storm along the eastern seaboard during the first two weeks (of November)."

Its Winter forecast, based on "an inherited formula from which science is not lacking," reads: "Turbulent, erratic, many storms of rain, snow and sleet. N. B.: The considered opinion of many authorities that Winters are growing milder will not be exemplified in next Winter's weather."

Aroused Britain Pledges to Resist Violence From Any Group in Trieste

LONDON, Nov. 9 (AP)—An aroused Britain today pledged to resist "violence from any quarter" in Trieste, amid a fresh flurry of diplomatic activity to ease tension in the troubled territory.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden tonight suddenly canceled his appearance at the London lord mayor's annual banquet, attended by Prime Minister Churchill, to hold urgent talks with the French and Yugoslav ambassadors on the Trieste dispute.

Eden hurried from a tense, packed House of Commons where he announced Britain holds Italian "extremists" responsible for the past week's bloody Trieste riots. He demanded that the Italian government act forcefully to curb "irresponsible" and "extremist elements" whom he blamed for the rioting in Trieste and anti-Allied demonstrations in Italy.

In Rome, a government spokesman sharply denied Eden's assertions as "completely false."

At the foreign office, Eden first conferred with French Ambassador Rene Massigli who called at his own request. Eden then summoned Yugoslav Ambassador Vladimir Velebit for a half hour conference on Trieste.

The foreign office declined to disclose details of the talks, but confirmed Trieste was the subject.

IN PARIS, French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault conferred successively with the British, Yugoslav and American ambassadors in efforts to reach a Trieste settlement.

Eden told Commons that Britain, France and the United States still favor round table talks with Italy and Yugoslavia as "the best chance" of a settlement.

"Our first duty," he said, "is to ensure that order is firmly restored in Trieste. This is being done." He added:

"As the House is aware, Her Majesty's Government has been working, together with the United States and French Governments, on specific suggestions regarding the basis on which a five-power conference might be called. We are also considering certain proposals put forward in this connection by the Yugoslav Government."

The new Yugoslav proposal is still secret, but there is speculation in Belgrade that it calls for a plebiscite in the port city of Trieste to decide on rule by either Italy or Yugoslavia or on internationalization.

Police Are Alerted For Violence in Philippine Election

MANILA, Tuesday, Nov. 10 (AP)—The 5 1/2 million voters of the young Philippines Republic choose a president today with 17,000 national police on the alert for more of the violence that marred election eye.

President Elpidio Quirino, whose Liberal party had ruled the islands since independence in 1946, reiterated charges of US intervention in a closing speech last night.

Ramon Magsaysay, who as standard bearer of the Nacionalista offers a serious challenge to the Liberal party, banded away at his charges of corruption and laughed off Quirino's assertion that he was "America's candidate."

The polls open at 7 a. m. (6 p. m. Monday, Pottstown time) and close at 6 p. m. (5 a. m. Tuesday, Pottstown time).

Communications are slow from the remote provinces and the commission on elections reported decisive returns may not be available for three days.

First returns are expected from Manila, a Magsaysay stronghold, shortly after the polls close.

The Philippines also will elect eight senators to the 24-member Upper House and the 12 members of the House of Representatives. The Nacionalistas, with eight holdovers, are bidding to cement the grip they won on the Senate in the 1951 elections.

While Magsaysay and Quirino have been debating alleged US intervention, both are regarded as pro-American.

Ramon Magsaysay, who as standard bearer of the Nacionalista offers a serious challenge, to the Liberal party, banged away at his charges of corruption and laughed off Quirino's assertion that he was "America's candidate."

The polls open at 7 a. m. (6 p. m. Monday, Pottstown time) and close at 6 p. m. (5 a. m. Tuesday, Pottstown time).

Communications are slow from the remote provinces and the commission on elections reported decisive returns may not be available for three days.

First returns are expected from Manila, a Magsaysay stronghold, shortly after the polls close.

The Philippines also will elect eight senators to the 24-member Upper House and the 102 members of the House of Representatives. The Nacionalistas, with eight holdovers, are bidding to cement the grip they won on the Senate in the 1951 elections.

While Magsaysay and Quirino have been debating alleged US intervention, both are regarded as pro-American.

Third Grade Pupils Are Preparing for Thanksgiving Day

By FAYE ARION

The boys and girls of the Third grade under the direction of Mrs. Catherine Jugan are getting ready for Thanksgiving. The children name the different things they have to be thankful for. They have started projects making log cabins, teepees, Indians and pilgrims for Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Jugan chose the topic "Pilgrims" in which they study about the pilgrims' dress, their religion, hardships, and crops. The children also made a mural of the Pilgrims and their Indian friends getting ready for the first Thanksgiving. Mrs. Jugan is teaching the children to be better citizens. They have organized a Good Citizens from Room 13 received prizes for club. Every week a boy and girl are chosen by the class as the Clark and Harold Missimer. Best grade citizens. To qualify for this position they must be courteous, kind, helpful, thoughtful and useful.

The children are learning to write interesting, friendly letters. They will write a letter and send it to a friend. They also are learning a little science by studying different kinds of soil and making experiments with it. Douglas Kerchner has a birthday on Thanksgiving Day and Charles Kidon will celebrate his sometime in November.

Loneliness is only an opportunity to cut adrift and find yourself.—Anna Shannon Monroe.

Time to Change Their Minds

THERE are many candidates for the dubious distinction of being the person who suffered most during the weekend snowstorm. It's hard to pick one candidate.

But for the group who probably are the most downhearted must be nominated the pilots at the Pottstown airport, the group kept together by Johnny Basco, World War II hero and now manager of the field.

So interested in the airport's welfare, this group proposed to Pottstown borough council that the men be permitted to build hangers there themselves.

The borough, as explained by the chairman of the Pottstown airport committee, was too poor to make any improvements at the field. If the flybys wanted hangers in which to protect their costly airplanes, let 'em build them themselves, was the edict of the committee.

This cheapness of borough officials didn't deter the pilots. They went to work, bought building materials and started the erection of the hangers. They were all ready for the studding, hoped to put the hangers under roof when WHAM! the storm descended and their houses fell in!

It was the start of a $16,000 project. Now the pilots are back where they started.

Pottstown's borough councilmen acted pretty cheap a few months ago when they gave their blessing to this community building project. Now, in the face of adversity, wouldn't it be good sportsmanship and good business and a sign of community progress if the councilmen would consider putting up the hangers at borough expense?

Time to Look Around

THIS snowstorm kept most of the folks in town or on the farm, and it did give some a chance to take long walks and consider the Autumn chores of yesterday.

Are you old enough to remember some? Look around your neighborhood and try to find a house that had tarpaper strung around the foundation as protection against winter. Nor a banking of straw, as sometimes happened a generation ago.

There isn't an honest-to-gosh wood pile to be found, either. None of those fancy round affairs in which many a vanished householder took pride. He built them up as carefully as a farmer did his grain stacks. Two or three of the symmetrical piles would hold enough stove wood to last until May.

No barrels of apples are being rolled into cellars, no big supplies of potatoes being put away for cold weather appetites.

Surely oil heat has advantages over a wood fire and the grocer no doubt has better facilities for keeping food than the housewife.

But there was a special feeling of security in the era when people made their own preparations for winter.

The tasks weren't rugged, except to some kids who would rather be playing football; they were part of a pattern of life which developed with the pioneer and hung on until World War I.

Maybe the newer way is progress.

Still old timers who look back upon the lost arts of Autumn wonder if something hasn't been lost in the way of self-sufficiency which had considerable value.

Depression Talk Unjustified

TALK of a depression seems downright silly at this time when national income is at an all-time high—at an annual rate of $309,000,000,000—and employment, at 62,000,000—is about equal to last year's record.

The truce in Korea can have only a minor impact on our economy. The whole defense program took only about 15 percent of our total production of goods and services and only a small part of that 15 percent was for Korea.

This country grew strong and great by producing for peace—not for war.

Our high standard of living is based on production of goods for use—not for destruction.

A cut-back in defense production will give industry a chance to turn out new goods that the American people want at prices they can afford to pay.

Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by The Mercury where last week a ten-point buck deer attacked an automobile over around Barrio and was killed. Maybe the dumb critter thought it was also open season on motor cars!

An item on the sports page says the Athletics' ex-manager, Jimmy Dykes, is to serve in an advisory capacity. Somehow, I can't visualize the peppery James as a back-seat driver.

And say: Speaking of Dykes, many a guy who thought he had his job in the bag finds out that he's just been sacked.

Topin' you air the same,
GRAMPAW NED OAKLEY

READERS SAY:

Urges Griffith to Quit Now

His Own Postmortem

To the Editor: The results of the Pottstown election indicated that the people voted "no confidence" in the administration of Burgess Griffith. They had many reasons to vote against him. He did nothing for eight years in office. It is my considered opinion that he should resign now instead of waiting until his term expires at the end of the year. This will prevent him from obstructing any good that may result, and it also will give a new man a chance to enforce the laws of the community.

There are many causes for Griffith's landslide defeat. It was plainly evident he was not aware of his responsibility to the rank and file of Pottstown people. Not even last-minute promises by that quickly-silenced soundtruck of assinine reports that "Burgess Griffith will give Pottstown new schools if re-elected" could win any votes. It lost him many.

Too many people were able to see through him and the reasons for his handshaking. Too many laughed at him when he turned his back. "He's only looking for votes" is what they said. He just wore out his welcome. But there shouldn't be any bitterness and I hope he won't take out his defeat on his adversaries.

The Democrats have admitted in a public statement that they need a housecleaning. They need new blood and new faces. They needed it before the election. It's like the self-made man who stopped too quick.

Pottstown LOYAL DEMOCRAT

Start Scraping

To the Editor: Why is it Pottstown road workers don't get right out and start scraping snow soon as it starts to fall?

It seems to me that there's too long a wait between the time snow piles up, motorists get stranded and the time road machinery starts to operate.

In most large towns, the machinery gets to work right away on snow removal.

Pottstown STRANDED ONCE

Law on Snow Removal

To the Editor: Isn't there some ordinance to make local residents clean off their walks after it snows?

After slipping and sliding along High Street sidewalks for a half an hour I am convinced that people are either just too lazy here or like to see people land on their heads.

Next time I have to walk along throw-down sidewalks, I am going to throw snowballs through the person's windows. Maybe a little vandalism is what they need.

Pottstown PEDESTRIAN
EDITOR'S NOTE: Pottstown law requires that sidewalks must be cleared of snow within 24 hours of a storm's end.

Loves Snow

To the Editor: Some people may hate snowstorms, but I love them.

Why? Because for one thing, snow slows traffic. Traffic is slowed more effectively by snow than it is by police officers.

Also because snow hides the deep, rutted thorough streets. It covers the gutters where Pottstown's dirt lies.

And last but not least, snow gets my lazy next-door neighbor off his fat gunk to shovel his way out.

Pottstown SNOW-LOVER

Splashed by Driver

To the Editor: I think the most discourteous act of motorists is to splash pedestrians who are waiting to cross the street.

It happened to me while I was waiting to cross at High and Charlotte streets.

A man in a new car cut close to the curb as he turned into Charlotte street and splashed me. But good!

Pottstown PEDESTRIAN

Grateful for Deed

To the Editor: I'd like to thank the unidentified motorists who helped push me from a ditch where I'd become stranded when my car slipped sideways on North Charlotte street.

Such acts of kindness mustn't go unnoticed.

Pottstown THANKFUL

Neither a Borrower...

To the Editor: There is one thing civilization has taught us.

We can always buy the big things on credit, and the little things can be borrowed from the neighbors.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

HENRY R. has been married seven years.

"Dr. Crane, our home life would be happy," his attractive wife informed me, "except for one thing."

"Henry has an obsession about becoming wealthy. He thinks I can't be happy unless he can show me with gifts and luxury."

"But I am not complaining. He makes $75 a week, and we are able to live within our budget."

"So what can I do to help him enjoy the home we have?"

MOST PEOPLE become addicted unduly to the worship of money. So let's face this situation clearly.

There is a story about Marshall Field Jr., when he came into his great fortune.

"What's it like, Mr. Field," a reporter said to have exclaimed, "to find yourself a multimillionaire?"

"Well," Field is quoted as replying, "I still eat only three meals a day and wear only one suit at a time!"

Field's laconic retort brings out a challenging thought which should help give all of us better financial perspective.

Whether you earn $50 or $500 a week, you still enjoy almost the same things here in America.

For three meals a day are about all anybody craves. The $50-a-week man thus gets plenty of food. And the $500-a-week employee can't eat 80 meals a day just because his salary is ten times greater.

Nor can he wear but a single pair of shoes or more than one suit or hat at the same time.

THE $500 MAN also sees the same movie as the $50 worker. Both view the same television show or listen to the same radio program.

They see the same football games or prize fights or baseball and basketball contests. They read the same newspaper.

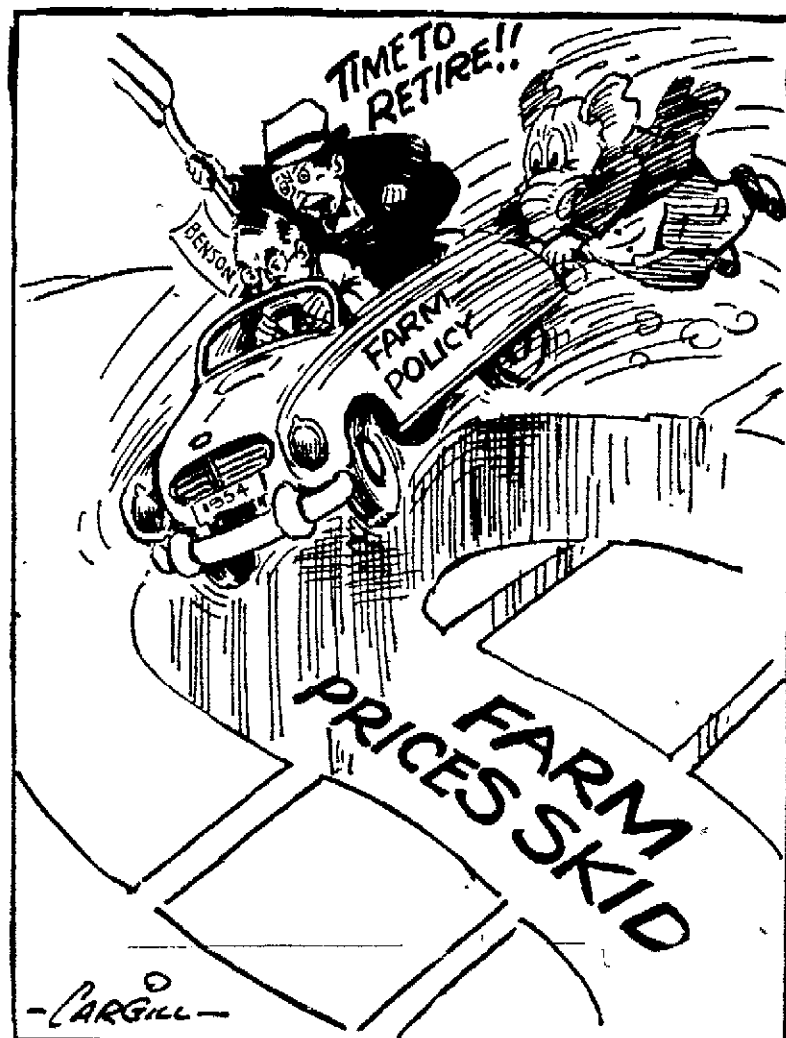

They can listen to the same priest or clergyman on the Sabbath. So why should the $50 man feel so envious of the $500-a-week employee?

"Oh, but if I were wealthy, then I wouldn't have to work?" is the next retort.

And most of us feel that way. But what happens when we take our vacation and don't need to get up early to punch a time clock?

Why, we get fed up with our own indulgence and usually feel pretty glad to get back on our old routine, even after a few weeks of loafing.

Hollywood

By DON HOPE

While Miss Gwynn is on vacation her column is being conducted by Don Hope.

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 9 — With Cornel Wilde home in Hollywood, his long-planned project, "The Lord Byron Story" is making news (if one can call it that) again.

At least three years ago, Wilde penned his own script of Byron's life — which he hoped to produce independently, but certainly meant to star in. Now "The Byron Story" (mention of which has become virtually a "running gag" around Hollywood) is again activated.

But this time around, well-known writer Robert Buckner is doing the script, with Buckner, Wilde and British producer, John Bryan being the potential trio to bring it to the screen. As things stand now, Wilde will be making this with Bryan in the near future. When he does trek to England for it, his wife Jean Wallace will be prominent in the cast.

MARIO LANZA doesn't care, anymore—about how much heft he acquires — and probably won't need to. You can forget rumors that Lanza will star in "The Vagabond King" at Paramount. That deal is cold. However, the singer makes more from his record royalties than most luminaries gain from their movies... Tom Morton, the young actor who is so good in the mediocre, "Main Street to Broadway," has asked for and gotten his release from Paramount. Morton is a song-and-dance man, which most people forgot, watching his dramatic performance in above film. He'll go East to accept TV and night-club offers now.

MORE ABOUT WHAT the distaff side is doing: Ellen Drew is another seen more on small screens than theaters since she married millionaire Stan Walker two years ago. Miss Drew will presently star in "Crosstuck" for producer Bruce Bennett. Curt Siodmak will direct this story of the lumber camps... Alexis Smith, with Victor Jory, has been touring the USA in the play, "Bell, Book and Candle," and returned to Hollywood the past week. Whether or not Craig he (stranded husband, Stahe Stevens (he has been doing all right in a local staging of "Mr. Roberts") will reconcile, is still a moot question. Alexis soon takes off for England to star in "The Sleeping Gunman." In it, she plays a horribly selfish, psychotic woman.

HALT FIRE — A two-story garage on the premises of Lesh, Francis, 54 South Reading avenue, Boyertown, was on fire. Collier Rhoads dashed to the scene with a large extinguisher and when the firemen arrived the blaze was under control.

BOLD DEER — Buck deer have been making their appearance in thickly populated sections of the borough. Street Commissioner Donald Maurer saw a deer on Keim street between Queen and South streets. Mrs. Wilmer Guest spied a buck deer in the garden of her neighbor, Mrs. Joseph Yohn, 767 Walnut street. A deer also was seen at Rosedale nibbling at some plants in a garden.

MUSICAL BEQUEST — The will of William N. Scheetz bequeathed $1000 to the Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine company to provide music for events at the fire house and also for company demonstrations. He was a member of the fire company for many years and was interested in the company's life and drum corps.

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

At Plumbing Work... Snyder to Move...

★ WHAT HAPPENED TO THEM DEP'T — Harry B. Travis, 268 Beech street, former official of Spicer Local 644, United Auto Workers (CIO), now is working as a helper for L. Hart and Sons, 138 Chestnut street, plumbing and heating contractors. He'd worked part-time for the firm before during a temporary layoff from Spicer Manufacturing division's plant, is working fulltime for Hart's now as a result of an employment cutback at Spicer's... Robert V. Tobias, 298 Diamond street, who was editor of Spicer Manufacturing division's plant magazine, is another victim of employment cutbacks there. He's looking now for public relations work in the area.

MOVER — Come December 1, Electrician JOHN W. SNYDER will give up his retail store at 150 King street. But, he'll continue in the electrical business from his home on the Swamp pike, and in order to make it easy for his customers, he'll retain his same Pottstown telephone number. Snyder has been on King street for two years. He bought the RAYMOND B. MILLER electrical business in 1946, retained the Miller showroom at 27 North Hanover for four years, then moved to King street... Wonder if WILLIAM BROWN, former Linfield Fire company lad, ever thinks of the lucky silver dollar he was given when he entered the Army in World War II. He carried the lucky charm all through the war, ascribed his good fortune to the piece of silver. And what has happened to Brown?

★ HERE AND THERE — James E. Osborn, 323 High street, is vacationing in Bermuda... Pvt. Alton R. Schroyer, a Boyertown High school graduate, has finished an ordnance storage specialist school course at Aberdeen, Md... There'll be some huge electric bills in Pottstown this month. The folks sure used the television set while snowbound the past weekend!... Among the unsung heroes of the Saturday storm was Jim Quigley, the Bally gargeman, who spent a whole day towing and pushing stalled motorists out of drifts... Farmers along highways were gracious enough to welcome visitors into their homes when their motorists broke down. Jesse Yoder, near New Berlinville, entertained two stranded motorists, one from Allentown, one from Pottstown. The Allentown got stuck at 3 p.m., the local at 4.30. The pair weren't dug out until 10.30 a.m. All the while Yoder let them up his heart, etc.

IN KOREA — Army CAPT. JOHN AXSMITH, whose wife, MILDRED, and daughter, TRUDY ANN, lived at 996 Hale street, arrived in the Far East for duty with the Korea Civil assistance command. The captain is a supply officer. Working through field teams in each South Korean province, his outfit helps the republic of Korea fight disease, starvation, and unrest. A veteran of World War II duty in Italy, Axsmith entered the Army in 1934, and was commissioned in 1942. He is the son of MR. AND MRS. GEORGE AXSMITH, 1164 Grove avenue.

★ BUSINESS AND PLEASURE — When Capt. Russell S. Keen, 256 Lee avenue, came home from Japan, he combined Air Force business with the pleasures of starting a 30-day vacation. He piloted a cargo plane that was due for repairs in the States. His leave marked the first time in a year that he's seen his wife, Sara, and their two daughters, Barbara, 8, and Nancy, 2. At leave's end, he'll go to Donaldson Air Force base, S.C., taking his family with him. Capt. Keen flew 95 missions over Germany during World War II. He was recalled to service in March of 1951 after working in the accounting department of Bethlehem Steel company. He's a graduate of Spring City High school and Pottstown Business school. He'd been stationed at Ashiya AF base in Southern Japan.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

SOME OF THE most common symptoms noted are too frequent to result from one disease alone, and we find them common to a large variety of diseases.

I am speaking now of frequent headaches, blockage of the nasal passages, and dripping of the nasal discharges from the nose into the throat.

Most of these symptoms could be due to allergic states, adenoids, polyps, or a malformed nose. However, persons having frequent colds with a nasal discharge and obstruction, as well as a disturbed sense of smell, may be suffering from sinus trouble.

An examination by a physician can usually determine whether the sinuses are at fault. X-rays are also of great help, as is a process known as transillumination, in which a strong light is shone through the sinus.

If there is a disease of the sinus present, there will usually be a clouding of the light. With sinus infection, the pain is usually very severe, especially below the eyes and around the upper jaw.

Deep heat treatment is used to relieve the symptoms. Also used is a special solution that shrinks the membrane and allows drainage of the sinuses. Sometimes the physician will wash out the sinus for a few days. This sometimes helps to clear the infection faster. The giving of high dosages of the antibiotics is at times of great help.

Many times the infection in the sinuses becomes chronic, and the disease persists. In the cases that fail to respond to the usual methods of treatment, radical operations can be performed that cure the difficulty.

Many cases of chronic sinus infections may have allergy as their underlying cause. Once the allergy is discovered and cleared up by the physician, the sinus problem as a rule disappears.

Loneliness is only an opportunity to cut adrift and find yourself.—Anna Shannon Monroe.

Time to Change Their Minds

THERE are many candidates for the dubious distinction of being the person who suffered most during the weekend snowstorm. It's hard to pick one candidate.

But for the group who probably are the most downhearted must be nominated the pilots at the Pottstown airport, the group kept together by Johnny Basco, World War II hero and now manager of the field.

So interested in the airport's welfare, this group proposed to Pottstown borough council that the men be permitted to build hangers there themselves.

The borough, as explained by the chairman of the Pottstown airport committee, was too poor to make any improvements at the field. If the fliers wanted hangers in which to protect their costly airplanes, let 'em build them themselves, was the edict of the committee.

This cheapness of borough officials didn't deter the pilots. They went to work, bought building materials and started the erection of the hangers. They were all ready for the studding, hoped to put the hangers under roof when WHAM! the storm descended and their houses fell in!

It was the start of a $16,000 project.
Now the pilots are back where they started.

Pottstown's borough councilmen acted pretty cheap a few months ago when they gave their blessing to this community building project. Now, in the face of adversity, wouldn't it be good sportsmanship and good business and a sign of community progress if the councilmen would consider putting up the hangers at borough expense?

Time to Look Around

THIS snowstorm kept most of the folks in town or on the farm, and it did give some a chance to take long walks and consider the Autumn chores of yesteryear.

Are you old enough to remember some?
Look around your neighborhood and try to find a house that had tarpaper strung around the foundation as protection against winter.
Nor a banking of straw, as sometimes happened a generation ago.

There isn't an honest-to-gosh wood pile to be found, either. None of those fancy round affairs in which many a vanished householder took pride. He built them up as carefully as a farmer did his grain stacks. Two or three of the symmetrical piles would hold enough stove wood to last until May.

No barrels of apples are being rolled into cellars, no big supplies of potatoes being put away for cold weather appetites.

Surely oil heat has advantages over a wood fire and the grocer no doubt has better facilities for keeping food than the housewife.

But there was a special feeling of security in the era when people made their own preparations for winter.

The tasks weren't drudgery, except to some kids who would rather be playing football; they were part of a pattern of life which developed with the pioneer and hung on until World War I.

Maybe the newer way is progress.

Still old timers who look back upon the lost arts of Autumn wonder if something hasn't been lost in the way of self-sufficiency which had considerable value.

Depression Talk Unjustified

TALK of a depression seems downright silly at this time when national income is at an all-time high—at an annual rate of $309-000,000,000—and employment, at 62,000,000—is about equal to last year's record.

The truce in Korea can have only a minor impact on our economy. The whole defense program took only about 15 percent of our total production of goods and services and only a small part of that 15 percent was for Korea.

This country grew strong and great by producing for peace—not for war.

Our high standard of living is based on production of goods for use—not for destruction.

A cut-back in defense production will give industry a chance to turn out new goods that the American people want at prices they can afford to pay.

His Own Postmortem

To the Editor: The results of the Pottstown election indicated that the people voted "no confidence" in the administration of Burgess Griffith. They had many reasons to vote against him.
He did nothing for eight years in office.
It is my considered opinion that he should resign now instead of waiting until his term expires at the end of the year. This will prevent him from obstructing any good that may result, and it also will give a new man a chance to enforce the laws of the community.

There are many causes for Griffith's landslide defeat. It was plainly evident he was not aware of his responsibility to the rank and file of Pottstown people.
Not even last-minute promises by that quickly-silenced soundtruck of assinine reports that "Burgess Griffith will give Pottstown new schools if re-elected" could win any votes. It lost him many.
Too many people were able to see through him and the reasons for his handshaking. Too many laughed at him when he turned his back. "He's only looking for votes" is what they said. He just wore out his welcome. But there shouldn't be any bitterness and I hope he won't take out his defeat on his adversaries.

The Democrats have admitted in a public statement that they need a housecleaning. They need new blood and new faces. They needed it before the election. It's like the self-made man who

WASHINGTON
Ike Quiet on McCarthy
In Current Spy Probe

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's current exposure of Soviet espionage in President Eisenhower's own branch of the Government—The Army Signal Corps headquarters at Monmouth, N. J.—has silenced White House criticism of the Wisconsin man's tactics and objectives.

Ike may still dislike and deplore Mc-Carthy's mannerisms, or the necessity for a continued inquiry.

But Ike also knows when the hour has come to beat a strategic retreat from a dangerous military or political sector.

The significance of this strange twist in the Eisenhower-McCarthy relationship, although not generally appreciated, accounts for the new respect for an investigation which the President has criticized indirectly on several occasions at the behest of so-called liberals and intelligentsia in his train.

THEN AND NOW: For a full understanding and appreciation of Eisenhower's new position, especially as his example will influence the attitude of Congress and the Republican Party toward the erstwhile "bad boy," it is necessary to review their relationship from the day Ike was nominated for the Presidency.

McCarthy was then an extremely controversial issue, for he had not produced the proof of many of his seemingly fantastic charges. The nominee's advisers begged him to show no sympathy toward the Senator or the Jenner-Dirksen-Capehart faction which approved the campaign against Communists.

In general, candidate Eisenhower agreed. He and others shivered on the night that McCarthy, in his Chicago speech, attempted to link Adlai E. Stevenson with the anti-American conspiracy.

In many of the Eastern newspapers supporting Ike, as well as on the lips of certain GOP spellbinders, "McCarthy-ism" became a word of scorn.

THE WANTED JOB: In his inaugural address, the new President elected the freedom of thought and speech. In his message on the State of the Union, he appeared to condemn all Congressional investigations into this problem as interference with his own prerogatives.

He declared that the responsibility for wedding and keeping subversives out of the Government rested on the executive branch. Otherwise, he said, there would be "disorder and confusion."
In other words, he invited Congress, and especially McCarthy, to leave the job exclusively to him.

The political and Congressional reaction has been, and the White House realizes it, that if Eisenhower cannot keep the Reds out of the Army's most secret laboratories and experimental centers, he should not object to what used to be denounced as "McCarthyism."

As a result of this dramatic development, it is now certain that "Joe" will rank next to Ike as a Republican campaign figure in the 1954 elections.

McCarthy's new stature has also changed him for the better. He conducts his hearings with amazing restraint, and within legislative bounds.
He conceals the identity of suspected witnesses and violators. He cooperates completely with the Department of Justice, especially the FBI, and they reciprocate. As suggested here months ago, "Joe" now believes that "McCarthyism" will assume a different and respected meaning in American political lore.

Start Scraping

To the Editor: Why is it Pottstown road workers don't get right out and start scraping snow soon as it starts to fall?

It seems to me that there's too long a wait between the time snow piles up, motorists get stranded and the time road machinery starts to operate.

In most large towns, the machinery gets to work right away on snow removal.

Law on Snow Removal

To the Editor: Isn't there some ordinance to make local residents clean off their walks after it snows?

After slipping and sliding along High street sidewalks for a half an hour I am convinced that people are either just too lazy here or like to see people land on their heads.

Next time I have to walk along unshoveled sidewalks, I am going to throw snowballs through the person's windows.
Maybe a little vandalism is what they need.

Pottstown PEDESTRIAN
EDITOR'S NOTE: Pottstown law requires that sidewalks must be cleared of snow within 24 hours of a storm's end.

Loves Snow

To the Editor: Some people may hate snowstorms, but I love them.

Why? Because for one thing, snow slows traffic. Traffic is slowed more effectively by snow than it is by police officers.

Also because snow hides the deep, rutted thorough streets. It covers the gutters where Pottstown's dirt lies.

And last but not least, snow gets my lazy next-door neighbor off his fat hulk to shovel his way out.

A man in a new car cut close to the coming wealthy. He thinks I can't be "So what can I do to help him enjoy the home we have?"

MOST PEOPLE become addicted unduly to the worship of money. So let's face this situation clearly.

There is a story about Marshall Field Jr. when he came into his great fortune.

"What's it like, Mr. Field," a reporter is said to have exclaimed, "to find yourself a multimillionaire?"

"Well," Field is quoted as replying,
"I still eat only three meals a day and wear only one suit at a time!"

Field's laconic retort brings out a challenging thought which should help give all of us better financial perspective.

Whether you earn $50 or $500 a week, you still enjoy almost the same things here in America.

For three meals a day are about all anybody craves. The $50-a-week man thus gets plenty of food. And the $500-a-week employee can't eat 30 meals a day just because his salary is ten times greater.

Nor can he wear but a single pair of shoes or more than one suit or hat at the same time.

THE $500 MAN also sees the same movie as the $50 worker. Both view the same television show or listen to the same radio program.

They see the same football games or prize fights or baseball and basketball contests. They read the same newspaper.

They can listen to the same priest or clergyman on the Sabbath. So why should the $50 man feel so envious of the $500-a-week employee?

"Oh, but if I were wealthy, then I wouldn't have to work?" is the next report.

And most of us feel that way. But what happens when we take our vacation and don't need to get up early to punch a time clock?

Why, we get fed up with our own indolence and usually feel pretty glad to get back on our old routine, even after a few weeks of loafing.

Walker and Vera Allen wouldn't have to climb stairs. He now dresses in the basement of the theater . . .
Football pools at $100 a slip are now common on Wall Street.

Jackie Coogan's ex-bride, Anne McCormack, is weaving romances with Hugh O'Brian, another Thesplan . . . A 21-year-old Korean girl named Reiko Sako—a dancing comedienne—may take Broadway by storm in the Gwen Verdon manner when "Kismet" hits town. Out-of-town viewers say she really shines.

ATOMIC POWER for civilian use will be here within 18 months . . . Bandleader Ray Anthony's brother, Leo, is cutting out of the Anthony crew to organize a rhythm and blues outfit . . . The real reason for the split between one of Universal-International's prettiest young actresses and her screenwriter husband was a director on the same lot. Married fellow, to add to the complications.

Insiders say Batista of Cuba is so nervous about the possibility of assassination he has 35 places to sleep, and switches from one to the other nightly.
(With those worries, who could sleep?)

Broadway ticket agencies are beginning to stock free tickets to TV shows just to satisfy the visiting firemen who wander in more interested in seeing popular video programs than legitimate Main Stem productions. According to the ticket sellers, the gratis pasteboards often soften the out-of-towners for $4.80 sales.

Lyman Gilbert, Fremont Keim, Mrs.
Edward Graham, Carrie Belle Robinson and James V. Gleason.

HALT FIRE—A two-story garage on the premises of Leshner, Francis, 54 South Reading avenue, Boyertown, was on fire. Collier Rhoads dashed to the scene with a large extinguisher and when the firemen arrived the blaze was under control.

BOLD DEER—Buck deer have been making their appearance in thickly populated sections of the borough. Street Commissioner Donald Maurer saw a deer on Keim street between Queen and South streets. Mrs. Wilmer Guest spied a buck deer in the yard of her neighbor, Mrs. Joseph Yohn, 767 Walnut street. A deer also was seen at Rosedale nibbling at some plants in a garden.

MUSICAL BEQUEST—The will of William N. Schetz bequeaths $1000 to the Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine company to provide music for events at the fire house and also for company demonstrations. He was a member of the fire company for many years and was interested in the company's life and drum corps.

BACK SEAT DRIVER

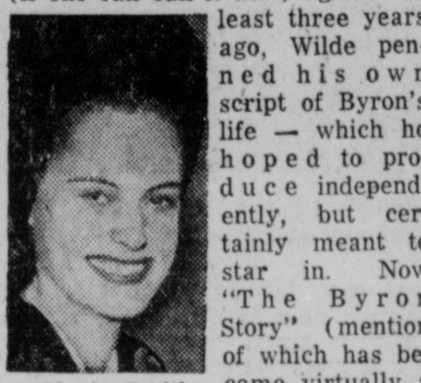

Hollywood

By DON HOPE

While Miss Gwynn is on vacation her column is being conducted by Don Hope.

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 9 — With Cornel Wilde home in Hollywood, his long-planned project, "The Lord Byron Story" is making news (if one can call it that) again. At least three years ago, Wilde penned his own script of Byron's life — which he hoped to produce independently, but certainly meant to star in. Now
"The Byron Story" (mention of which has become virtually a "running gag"

Alexis Smith

around Hollywood) is again activated. But this time around, well-known writer Robert Buckner is doing the script, with Buckner, Wilde and British producer, John Bryan being the potential trio to bring it to the screen. As things stand now, Wilde will be making this with Bryan in the near future.
When he does trek to England for it, his wife Jean Wallace will be prominent in the cast.

MARIO LANZA doesn't care anymore—about how much heft he acquires — and probably won't need to. You can forget rumors that Lanza will star in "The Vagabond King" at Paramount. That deal is cold. However, the singer makes more from his record royalties than most luminaries gain from their movies. . . . Tom Morton, the young actor who is so good in the mediocre, "Main Street to Broadway," has asked for and gotten his release from Paramount. Morton is a song-and-dance man, which most people forgot, watching his dramatic performance in above film. He'll go East to accept TV and night-club offers now.

MORE ABOUT WHAT the distasteful side is doing: Ellen Drew is another seen more on small screens than theaters since she married millionaire Stan Walker two years ago. Miss Drew will presently star in "Crosst" for producer Bruce Bennett. Curt Siodmak will direct this story of the lumber camps . . . Alexis Smith, with Victor Jory, has been touring the USA in the play, "Bell, Book and Candle," and returned to Hollywood the past week. Whether or not she and her estranged husband, Craig Stevens (he has been doing all right in a local staging of "Mr. Roberts") will reconcile, is still a moot question. Alexis soon takes off for England to star in "The Sleeping Gunman." In it, she plays a horribly selfish, psychotic woman.

Woman Faces Loss Of 2 More Fingers After Saw Mishap

A 25-year-old Pottstown woman, who has lost one finger through a power-saw accident, yesterday was faced with the possible loss of two other fingers.

Mrs. Henry W. Moyer, Schwenk road, Pottstown RD 3, was in Pottstown hospital with severely lacerated first and second fingers of the left hand. The ring finger already has been amputated at the second joint.

Her husband reported that the fingers were cut to the bone by a power saw with which she was making a knick-knack shelf the past Wednesday in the basement of her home.

The hand was operated on that day, in an attempt to repair damage to the tendons and ligaments.

No Change Is Noted In RH Factor Baby

The Pottstown baby who had 85 percent of her blood replaced in Children's hospital, Philadelphia, the past Saturday was "as well as could be expected" yesterday, physicians reported.

Physicians said there had been no real change in her condition following the serious operation.

The baby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Galloway, West

Walnut street, Penn Village, required the hour-long blood exchange because her RH factor is opposite to her mother's, which resulted in a dangerous "antiblood" entering the baby's blood. The baby had the operation when it was only a day old.

What Is The Best Fast Growing Shade Tree?

Fast growing shade trees are usually brittle and short-lived, but Oriental Planes (European Sycamores) are an outstanding exception. In our opinion, the best fast-growing shade tree. Planes break into leaf early. They drop leaves late. Planes permit grass to grow underneath. They live for centuries.

We have hundreds of beautiful plane trees. Fully branched. Straight trunks. Shapely. Healthy and vigorous. Short and multi-rooted because frequently transplanted. Rapid producers of shade and beauty.

Drunk Men Blamed For School Damage

Vandalism at the West End school was the work of three drunk men, not of boys, it was reported yesterday by Pottstown police.

Damaged at the nearly-completed school were at least nine new panes of glass at the front of the building. Rocks and mudballs were used.

Jeffersonville State Police Corp. Donald C. Bearcraft and Pottstown Plainclothesman Lewis M. Borgiet, who are working on the recent outbreak of burglaries, learned that three drunk men were seen throwing things at the school Sunday morning at 2:55 o'clock.

Police are continuing to try to identify the three over-age vandals.

SCHOOL BOARD —

tainly watch the future work of the board with great interest. I want to wish you all a lot of success and luck in all your future work."

At the suggestion of Carl M. Binder, board member, a resolution was entered into the minutes thanking the three men for their years of service.

THE MEETING itself dealt with routine matters and lasted exactly one hour and two minutes.

It was announced that a meeting on consolidation would be held with representatives of the three Pottsgrove school districts on Nov. 23. And the three newly elected board members, who won't officially take office until the December meeting, will be invited to attend the meeting.

Mrs. Marian S. Rowland, of Frederick, was elected to teach one-half day kindergarten at Franklin school starting Nov. 30.

Dr. George A. McCormick, superintendent of schools, also announced that a second grade teacher would be needed for the new West End school but that there were no applicants for the job because of the teacher shortage.

At the request of the Revs. William M. Begley, rector of St. Aloysius church, and John Naja, rector of St. Peter's church, Dr. L. T.

Zimmerman was elected medical examiner for those schools.

John P. Chizman, 94 South Madison street, was elected janitor for the school district.

THE PURCHASE of a one-ton heavy duty pick-up dump truck was approved. The cost, $1,774. A dishwasher for the Junior High school was bought at a cost of $1,100. The dishwasher at the Junior High school will be switched to the Senior High school.

The board voted to advertise for new batteries for the emergency lighting system at the Senior High school. Those now in use were declared useless by the fire inspectors.

The board also okayed the construction of wire guards for eight windows on the ground floor of the Jefferson building.

The guards should protect children from any injury and also preserve the window panes. This project will cost $360.

The Limerick township board of school directors asked for a clarification of Pottstown's position with reference to future admission of Limerick pupils.

The past May 6, the Pottstown board sent the Limerick board a letter stating that after the school year 1953-54, no guarantee could be given for the further admission of pupils.

Limerick asked that Pottstown state (1) that Pottstown will permit the present pupils enrolled to finish their schooling in Pottstown Junior and Senior High school. And (2) that no new entrants will be admitted regardless of grade, unless they apply for a vocational course.

Since this was merely a clarification of its position of the past May, the board approved the motion to send Limerick the letter asked for.

A MEETING will be held with automobile dealers and garage men to discuss the wisdom of including a course in auto mechanics in the Senior High school. The meeting will be held Dec. 11 at 11 a. m. at the Senior High school.

The new report card for Senior High school pupils was shown to the board members. Besides informing the parent and pupil of progress in subject matter, the new card indicates for both Low the pupil could improve his work in various subjects.

Dedication date for the West End school has been set tentatively as Dec. 9. The program, to start at 7:30 p. m., will see the architectural firm of Sanders and Thomas turn the new building over to the school authority.

A letter from the authority asking whether or not the school board was interested in claiming damages because the building was not completed on time was read.

Carl Binder moved that the authority be told no damages would be claimed. The motion was carried.

Two evening classes will be started. One will be in electricity, radio and television and will have 22 students. The other will be in woodwork.

A resolution was read into the minutes by Solicitor Harold E. Binder.

It provided that the board had to pay the firm of Sanders and Thomas the sum of $10,350 for plans drawn up for a proposed physical plode, found no flaw in her decision.

Hoping that another attendant would remove the hose, he dashed into the station office and called Stowe firemen. When he came out, there were two pumps lying on the ground. The woman was gone.

DeMario said damage to the pumps might run as high as $1000. The truck had very slight damage, he added.

Flight C Holds Meeting, Advances Airman's Rank

Edward J. Chayson, a member of Flight C, local Air Reserve unit, has been promoted to airman first class, it was announced at last night's meeting.

Major Elmer S. Friedberg, commander, was in charge of the meeting and also led the orientation period.

Sgt. Bernard M. Yanos spoke on problem-solving and led a group of discussion on the subject.

The meeting was held at the George A. Amole Post 47, American Legion.

and carried the ball further by deciding that a plan for a three-district jointure—excluding Pottstown—be drawn up.

They also agreed at that time, however, to continue co-operating with Pottstown on a study of the four-district consolidation.

Drunk Men Blamed For School Damage

Vandalism at the West End school was the work of three drunk men, not of boys, it was reported yesterday by Pottstown police.

Damaged at the nearly-completed school were at least nine new panes of glass at the front of the building. Rocks and mudballs were used.

Jeffersonville State Police Corp. Donald C. Bearcraft and Pottstown Plainclothesman Lewis M. Borgiet, who are working on the recent outbreak of burglaries, learned that three drunk men were seen throwing things at the school Sunday morning at 2:55 o'clock.

Police are continuing to try to identify the three over-age vandals.

tainly watch the future work of the board with great interest. I want to wish you all a lot of success and luck in all your future work."

At the suggestion of Carl M. Binder, board member, a resolution was entered into the minutes thanking the three men for their years of service.

THE MEETING itself dealt with routine matters and lasted exactly one hour and two minutes.

It was announced that a meeting on consolidation would be held with representatives of the three Pottsgrove school districts on Nov. 23.

And the three newly elected board members, who won't officially take office until the December meeting, will be invited to attend the meeting.

Mrs. Marian S. Rowland, of Frederick, was elected to teach one-half day kindergarten at Franklin school starting Nov. 30.

Dr. George A. McCormick, superintendent of schools, also announced that a second grade teacher would be needed for the new West End school but that there were no applicants for the job because of the teacher shortage.

At the request of the Revs. William M. Begley, rector of St. Aloysius church, and John Naja, rector of St. Peter's church, Dr. L. T.

Zimmerman was elected medical examiner for those schools.

John P. Chizman, 94 South Madison street, was elected janitor for the school district.

THE PURCHASE of a one-ton heavy duty pick-up dump truck was approved. The cost, $1774.

A dishwasher for the Junior High school was bought at a cost of $1100. The dishwasher at the Junior High school will be switched to the Senior High school.

The board voted to advertise for new batteries for the emergency lighting system at the Senior High school. Those now in use were declared useless by the fire inspectors.

The board also okayed the construction of wire guards for eight windows on the ground floor of the Jefferson building.

The guards should protect children from any injury and also preserve the window panes. This project will cost $360.

The Limerick township board of school directors asked for a clarification of Pottstown's position with reference to future admission of Limerick pupils.

The past May 6, the Pottstown board sent the Limerick board a letter stating that after the school year 1953-54, no guarantee could be given for the further admission of pupils.

Limerick asked that Pottstown state (1) that Pottstown will permit the present pupils enrolled to finish their schooling in Pottstown Junior and Senior High school. And (2) that no new entrants will be admitted regardless of grade, unless they apply for a vocational course.

Since this was merely a clarification of its position of the past May, the board approved the motion to send Limerick the letter asked for.

A MEETING will be held with automobile dealers and garage men to discuss the wisdom of including a course in auto mechanics in the Senior High school. The meeting will be held Dec. 11 at 11 a. m. at the Senior High school.

The new report card for Senior High school pupils was shown the board members. Besides informing the parent and pupil of progress in subject matter, the new card indicates for both Low the pupil could improve his work in various subjects.

Dedication date for the West End school has been set tentatively as Dec. 9. The program, to start at 7:30 p. m., will see the architectural firm of Sanders and Thomas turn the new building over to the school authority.

A letter from the authority asking whether or not the school board was interested in claiming damages because the building was not completed on time was read.

Carl Binder moved that the authority be told no damages would be claimed. The motion was carried.

Two evening classes will be started. One will be in electricity, radio and television and will have 22 students. The other will be in woodwork.

A resolution was read into the minutes by Solicitor Harold E. Binder.

It provided that the board had to pay the firm of Sanders and Thomas the sum of $10,359 for plans drawn up for a proposed physical education plant at the Junior High school and plans for the changing of the present Junior High gym into classrooms.

The sum will be paid off in two payments.

Hoping that another attendant would remove the hose, he dashed into the station office and called Stowe firemen. When he came out, there were two pumps lying on the ground. The woman was gone.

Major Elmer S. Friedberg, commander, was in charge of the meeting and also led the orientation period.

Veteran Farmer Uses Horse and Sled After Snowstorm

Here are some items: There's nothing like having a horse or two in the barn when a snowstorm strikes.

Webster Shantz, Spring City RD 1 farmer can tell you that He put his two-horse sleigh into operation Saturday morning.

It was either get out the old sleigh or keep the milk home, but Shantz believes in keeping the milk moving.

The veteran farmer first tried taking it to Sunny Slope dairy, the sible to sled. When it gets colder bottling plant, by truck, as usual, and ground freezes we can have the wheeled vehicle.

So neighbor, when it snows, don't sputter and snarl and skid and swear—get a horse.

Robert A. Reis, Pottstown recreation director, reported sledging barriers were not erected in the borough.

He explained, "The ground was warm. It was slushy all day Saturday afternoon," he asserted. "And we really felt the pinch because about 40 percent of our help was unable to make it."

John Dusko, manager of the Acme market, reported a "definite" slowdown in business on Saturday.

I. B. Leaman of the A and P reported, "Saturday wasn't too bad. But Friday was slow. We should be busy all week."

Harry Benshine and son George worked late Sunday cleaning Limerick township roads of snow.

W. R. Crosdale, Limerick, was out with his grader on several roads. His snow plough rigs were not in readiness for the surprising storm.

Jack Hoffman of the New York

"It picked up though on Saturday afternoon," he asserted. "And we really felt the pinch because about 40 percent of our help was unable to make it."

A concert by Violinist Szymon Goldberg last night attracted 250 persons to Pottstown High school auditorium.

auspices of the Pottstown Community Concert association.

It was the association's first musicale of the season. The next guest artist will be Mezzo-soprano Conchita Gaston, who will appear Jan. 19.

Goldberg now is on his fifth transcontinental tour and is playing the same Stradivarius violin he carried on world tours and as a prisoner of the Japanese during World War II.

THE COMMUNITY Concert organization, now in its tenth year, presented the concert under the direction of Mrs. James I. Wendell, president.

Goldberg presented this program, accompanied at the piano by Artur Balsam:

Praeludium and Allegro (in style of Pugnani) by Kreisler; Melodie by Gluck-Kreisler; Sonata No. 9, A. Major, Op. 47 (Kreutzer), by Beethoven; Adagio by Mozart; Rondo by Mozart-Kreisler; Poeme by Chausson; Hungarian Dance in F Major by Brahms-Joachim; Hungarian Dance in A Minor, by Brahms-Joachim.

Veteran Farmer Uses Horse and Sled After Snowstorm

Communications flowed easier last night, after area residents had put their backs into the job of clearing roads and sidewalks of the weekend's record first snowfall.

While much of the nine inches of slushy stuff had melted away by last night, the storm provided the main topic of conversation throughout the vicinity, especially while kinks were being worked out of sore muscles.

Here are some items: There's nothing like having a horse or two in the barn when a snowstorm strikes.

Webster Shantz, Spring City RD 1 farmer can tell you that. He put his two-horse sleigh into operation Saturday morning.

It was either get out the old sleigh or keep the milk home, but Shantz believes in keeping the milk moving.

The veteran farmer first tried taking it to Sunny Slope dairy, the bottling plant, by truck, as usual. But the deep drifts soon stalled the wheeled vehicle.

So the truck was stalled, but not the driver.

Shantz went back to the barn, hauled out his sleigh with the wagon body, hooked up his two sorrel horses and was off like a breeze with his four cans of milk.

So neighbor, when it snows, don't sputter and snarl and skid and swear—get a horse.

Robert A. Reis, Pottstown recreation director, reported sledding barriers were not erected in the borough.

He explained, "The ground was warm. It was slushy all day Saturday and would have been impossible to sled. When it gets colder and ground freezes we can have sledding with a lot less snow."

President William F. Lamb Sr., of Pottstown Automobile club, said area garages handled a constant stream of help calls from motorists.

Edward Pennypacker, manager at the Pottstown office, reported nearly 300 calls on Saturday. Only one of the seven girls who work in the auto club office was able to report.

Merchants, who reported a slowdown in shopping, expect to be busy all week.

Jack Hoffman of the New York

store estimated business was off 50 percent.

"It picked up though on Saturday afternoon," he asserted. "And we really felt the pinch because about 40 percent of our help was unable to make it."

John Dusko, manager of the Acme market, reported a "definite" slowdown in business on Saturday.

I. B. Leaman of the A and P reported, "Saturday wasn't too bad. But Friday was slow. We should be busy all week."

Harry Benshine and son George worked late Sunday cleaning Limerick township roads of snow.

W. R. Crosdale, Limerick, was out with his grader on several roads. His snow plough rigs were not in readiness for the surprising storm.

In New Hanover township a grader crew worked through Sunday morning.

In Collegeville a Lions club supper was postponed.

8 YMCA Directors Are Re-elected to New Term in Posts

Eight incumbent directors of the Pottstown YMCA automatically were re-elected to serve another term when no additions were made to a nominating committee's list of candidates.

The committee, with Benjamin Longaker as chairman, re-nominated the eight directors. Members had the opportunity to name additional candidates, but when they failed to do so the entire slate was elected again.

There are 23 directors of the YMCA. Elected to serve again were:

H. J. Christman, Frederick; Harold Glenney, 220 North Evans street; David Mauger 3d, Douglassville; William Oberlander, Spring City RD 1; Donald L. Rigg, 942 High street; William A. Shaner, 266 East street; Robert P. Smith, Cold Springs Park; Alden Ramsdell, Sanatoga road.

The US Census Bureau estimates that an American dies every 21 seconds, on the average.

What to do when lost in the woods was discussed at local Boy Scout meetings last night.

William Glenney, leader of First Presbyterian Troop 3, pointed out that a person could easily get lost in such places as French Creek State park.

"Best thing to do in such a case," he told his Scouts, "is to stay where you are until a searching party can reach you."

He explained how to survive in the woods — how to purify water and find roots that can be used for food.

His talk came only two days after several hunters almost got lost when caught in the past week's snowfall.

Troop 3 also had its charter reviewed by the troop committee last night, and three Scouts were invested with Tenderfoot rank.

They were Thomas Snively, Bruce Mauger and Lee Schumacher.

New Scouts Leonard Ebert and William Yerger were recognized by the board of review at the meeting.

James M. Creswell Jr., senior patrol leader of First Methodist Troop 4, has won the last merit badge required for Eagle rank.

Scoutmaster Daniel Pettigrew reported last night.

On Saturday, five of the troop's junior leaders will go to Camp Delmont, Summerville, with Scoutmaster Leonard Yerger, for the Junior leaders training course.

They are David Strunk, Ronald Frick, David Beckley, Jesse Houck 3d, and Richard Firth.

Nine members of Zion's Reformed Troop 5 are taking the troop leadership training course being conducted on Wednesday nights by Scoutmaster Wesley Nichols.

They are George Huxoll, Thomas Mest, Andrew Hospador, Warden Bechtel Jr., Wilson Weidner, Charles Erb, Ronald Neiman, Robert Kerr and Charles Rightmire.

The course will continue for about four more weeks. New troop leaders will be selected from those taking it.

AMERICAN Legion Troop 1 continued its work on the photography merit badge last night.

St. James Lutheran Troop 18 held uniform inspection and had its charter reviewed last night, and the Scouts registered for the coming year.

Transfiguration Lutheran Troop 16 had to postpone its hike to Ringing Rocks the past weekend because of the snow. The Scouts plan to take the outing this weekend.

DESOTO-PLYMOUTH Dealers present GROUCHO MARX every week on RADIO and TELEVISION (NBC networks) and "Medallion Theatre" on TELEVISION (CBS network)

Steel fabricated in Pottstown will speed New York City traffic

The tremendous grid you see extending along the East River waterfront is the steel framework for the South Street Elevated Highway, a brand-new link in Manhattan's system of super-highways.

New Yorkers will be mighty pleased when this high-speed expressway is open for traffic. It will mean that motorists can completely by-pass the congested Fulton Fish Market district. And with through traffic moving smoothly overhead, both driving and walking will be a lot easier and safer down on the street level.

The South Street Elevated Highway first began to take shape here in the Pottstown Works late in 1952 when steel beams, columns and plates began arriving from our steel plants at Bethlehem and at Sparrows

Point, Md. Working directly from the designer's blueprints, we cut the steel sections to the correct sizes, machined them to fit together snugly, drilled and punched holes for rivets and bolts, and marked each piece for quick erection on South Street. In all, we fabricated 15,980 tons of structural steel.

Down through the years many famous structures have started out in our Pottstown Works. New York's Rockefeller Plaza Building, for instance, and the George Washington Bridge. Philadelphia's 30th Street Station, San Francisco's Golden Gate Bridge, the Department of Justice building in Washington, D. C., and the giant Chesapeake Bay Bridge, just completed last year — all were fabricated wholly or in large part in our Pottstown Works.

It's a credit to each of the 1800 employees of our Pottstown Works, and a matter of pride to everyone in town, that so many of the nation's outstanding bridges and buildings were fabricated right here on the north bank of the Schuylkill.

The

Bowler's Line

Everybody in the area felt the effects of the snowstorm over the weekend including the Friday night bowlers. Three leagues at the Arrow alleys called off their matches that evening because too few players could attend. The leagues were St. Al's Club Mixed, Firestone Mid-Night and Doehler Midnight.

The big collector of prizes at Arrow last week was Otto Findeison who scored high single games in two leagues. He bumped the maples for a 232 game in the Sunday night mixed league and then tabbed a 228 game in the Church loop.

Other Sunday Mixed winners were Lynne Schinstine, 181, for girls high single, and in the triples, Bill Kulp, 564, and Phyllis Yervey, 433, bagged the awards. All the team glory went to Beets with 810 and 2387.

Harry Benner shared individual honors with Findeison in the Church league as he garnered a 562 set. Spring City Lutheran No. 2 was the big team winner with totals of 974 and 2636.

St. Anne's continues to lead the Catholic league at the Arrow lanes with a record over 29-7. The two St. Gabriel quintets are tied for second with 26-10 marks.

Anna Bartman clipped a high single of 191 and high triple of 483 in the Girls Rookie league at Arrow. Shamrocks won the team awards with 769 and 2183.

In the Firestone Girls loop, Barbara Groover was the top kegler for the week with 183 and 440. The Lucky Strike team had a few true strikes to tab scores of 520 and 1589.

WALT SMITH rolled the best game in the Firestone Men's league, 233, and Glenn Querry took the triple prize, 602. Plasteche was the feature team with 885 and 2489, both highs for the week. Jim Fogarty paces the loop with a 184.1 average.

Another double winner was Bill Hart, 223 and 532, in the Valley Forge Associates league at Arrow. The four-man Electrical team scored two team highs with 645 and 1738.

Teams that won at Arrow the past week made it unanimous and Tool Room played right along with the crowd by capturing a pair of laurels with totals of 835 and 2352. The individual honors were split between Jack Gresh, 210, and Leo Mazzoli, 529.

Al Dulis came through with an honor match in the Monday night loop at West End Fire company. He had scores of 200-230-211-641. Dulis completed the series without a miss. DeLoe Al's big set, Jim Pollock had the top game of the night at 234, and Joe Surman retained the average lead with 186. The league-leading Hooks, 26-6, captured the high team single, 905, and Sirens compiled a 2638 triple.

With plenty of bowlers snow-bound, the Friday night league at West End went on as scheduled

Gavilan's Pilot Fails in Attempt To Have Illinois Referee Barred

CHICAGO, Nov. 9 (U-P)—Angel Lopez, manager of welterweight champion Kid Gavilan, today failed in an attempt to have the Illinois Athletic Commission disqualify Referee Bill Doty for Gavilan's title defense against Johnny Bratton Friday.

Lopez intimated that Doty did not know his business because he voted 52-48 for Bratton in a non-title, 10-round bout at Chicago Stadium in 1951. That bout, the second meeting of the two fighters after Gavilan had defeated Bratton for the world crown in New York, was ruled a draw.

Livingston Osborne, commission chairman, told Lopez "no one can dictate to the commission."

The referee, as well as the two judges appointed by the commission for Friday night's bout in Chicago Stadium, will not be revealed until ring time. Identities of such officials are kept secret under commission rules.

HYMIE WALLMAN, Bratton's

manager, assured the commission "we've always been treated 100 percent in Chicago" and that Lopez' protest "was an attempt to embarrass the commission."

While the two opposing managers spoke their pieces, Bratton and Gavilan continued preparations at the Midwest gym.

"The next few days, Bratton is going to do nothing but punch hard," said his trainer, Freddy Fierro. "He is ready to set a fast pace, but I want to be sure that his punching power is up to par."

Gavilan has been pacing himself well in daily drills, boxing an average of four rounds. He is not expected to have any trouble making the 147-pound limit. He had to shed 8½ pounds in two weeks before his last title defense when he was knocked down and hard pressed to win over Carmen Basilio at Syracuse two months ago.

All Perk League Postponements Shifted to New Dates Next Week

The snowbound area football schedule thawed out considerably yesterday as definite dates were set for three postponed games involving Perkiomen Valley league teams.

C. A. "Barney" Roth, Upper Perkiomen High athletic director announced last night that Upper Perk will play Roversford at East Greenville, Saturday, Nov. 21. Neither team had games scheduled that day.

The undefeated Upper Perk Indians will play Emmaus this weekend and Roversford faces a rugged Neshaminy team. Both conclude their seasons on Thanksgiving day against traditional rivals, the Indians against Boyertown, and the Eagles playing Spring City.

Boyertown will try an iron-man stunt next Tuesday night when it goes against a good Muhlenberg township club at Albright Stadium at 8 o'clock. That gives the Bears only two days rest after playing Spring City this coming Saturday.

The Pirates of Spring City will get only one more day's rest as they take on the rugged Wilson High team of Reading on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 18.

All these games were originally scheduled for the past Saturday but were postponed because of the snow storm.

To warm up for their postponed games next week, Boyertown and Spring City will go against each other Saturday afternoon on the Bears' field.

In the other Perk league game Saturday, Collegeville will host Schwenksville in the season's finale for both teams.

Bill Seyler, No. 1

Two Grid Guessers Name 9 Right

Navy and Duke tried hard enough to throw a monkey wrench into the past week's Mercury Football Forecaster's contest, but in spite of the 0-0 deadlock between the two teams, Bill Seyler Jr., of Stowe, and Lloyd Moyer, 101 West 5th street, each came up with nine right.

Seyler wins four tickets to the Turkey Day clash between Pottstown and Downingtown because he called the point difference in the Tennessee-LSU tilt and was only two off on the point difference between California and Washington.

The Vols took LSU by a 32-14 count; Seyler saw it as Tennessee 18, LSU 0. Cal swamped Washington, 53-25, a 28 point difference. The winner pick Cal, 30-0.

Moyer, the runnerup, who wins two tickets, came closest on the Michigan State-Ohio State tilt. He was only one point off. The actual score was Michigan State 28, Ohio State 13. Moyer looked for the Spartans to down the Buckeyes by a 28-14 count.

THE TWO WINNERS will be notified by an announcement in the Mercury when they can pick up their ducats.

David Swinehart, 737 Walnut street, just missed hitting paydirt when he named eight right and was the only entrant to call the Navy-

Willie James Defeats Wilson

BOSTON, Nov. 9 (U-P)—Willie James of Boston successfully defended his New England heavyweight boxing title tonight by ending the 20 bout undefeated steak of Willie Wilson of Providence, R. I., with an unanimous 12-round decision in Mechanics building.

James weighed 209, Wilson 195½. In the eighth Wilson carried the fight to James, nailing the much taller Boston boxer with a few good lefts to the head. Wilson swarmed after James in the ninth, landing freely to the head to take the round.

Then James resumed his heavy body punching and had Wilson on the defensive the rest of the way. James knocked Wilson's mouthpiece to the canvas with a savage right in the 11th.

Mickey Mantle Uses Crutches

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 9 (U-P)—Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankee centerfielder, got his crutches today, marking another step in the recovery from an operation on his knee.

While he made attempts trying them out at Burge hospital, the player said he was feeling fine and hoped to get out of the hospital this week.

His main objective right now is that football game Thursday night between Commerce and Grove, Okla.

C-M Race Tightens

Phoenixville Surprises Bridgeport, 7-6

The Ches-Mont league standings did another flip-flop yesterday as Phoenixville put a damper on Bridgeport's title hopes with a 7-6 victory over the visiting Dragons.

Playing on a snow-covered Washington field, the Phantoms spotted the Porters an early touchdown then went ahead before the first quarter was over. From then on it was a contest of both teams failing to cash in scoring opportunities as the wet ball caused the offensive team no end of trouble.

The defeat stymied the Dragons' chance of breaking a first-place tie with West Chester. Both teams still have six points and 3-2 records. Phoenix bounced back into the league-race and is now tied for second with Downingtown, each with four points.

IT IS ALMOST a certainty now that the league championship will be decided on Thanksgiving Day when Downingtown plays at Pottstown and Berwyn hosts West Chester. The Trojans can either knock Bridgeport out of the race on Saturday, or if they lose, they will just about eliminate themselves. Bridgeport kicked off to Phoenixville in yesterday's game and on the first play from scrimmage, the Phantoms George Saville was hit while back to pass and fumbled. A Porter lineman recovered and ran the ball to the two where he was halted. Fullback Pat Picarello crashed over for the TD on his second try. The conversion attempt was messed up and never got off the ground.

Near the end of the period, a Bridgeport screen pass was intercepted by a Phoenix lineman and run back five yards to the visitors' 30. With Saville, Ralph Van Horn and Larry Bradshaw carrying, the Phantoms picked up a pair of first downs and finally from the one, quarterback Bradshaw pushed over for the tally.

The vital extra point was a pass from Saville to Fred Ettinger. Both teams blocked punts late in the game but neither could capitalize on the breaks when needing only 20 yards for a TD.

Practically the entire field was covered with snow, ranging from 1 to 4 inches in depth.

Coach Gene Kauler will attend a meeting of the Philadelphia Suburban Junior High School association at Ardmore today and will confer with the West Chester Junior High coach about the postponement.

Even if this game is cancelled, the Golden Cubs have added another contest to their schedule. At the invitation of Quakertown Junior High, the Cubs will play under the lights at Quakertown Thursday night at 7 o'clock.

THE QUAKERTOWN SCHOOL holds one night game each year to allow the parents who work during the day to see their youngsters in action. The original opponent on the Quakes' schedule was unable to play and the Cubs were invited to fill in.

Kauler said last night that captain Ken Wensel is definitely out of action for the rest of the season. The husky fullback suffered a severe hip injury that has responded slowly to treatment.

Baseball Wins Victory in Court; Declared Sport, Not Business

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Baseball won a major victory today when the Supreme Court ruled for the second time that, in the eyes of Federal law, the game is a sport and not an interstate business.

This means that baseball cannot be challenged in the courts as an illegal monopoly and that the game's controversial reserve clause will stay on the books unless Congress does something about it.

Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.), chairman of the monopoly subcommittee of the House Judiciary committee, said in the wake of the decision that he knows of no legislation in the works to put baseball under the antitrust laws or to exempt it specifically.

He said, however, it was possible the Supreme Court decision might lead to the introduction of a bill that would clarify now Congress stands on the issue.

The monopoly subcommittee studied the question extensively two years ago, but took no action.

Chief Justice Warren read today's brief opinion, to which two justices dissented. It was a "per curiam" decision, that is, one issued by the court rather than under the signature of an individual justice. Apparently the court split 7-2 on the question.

Justice Burton got out a vigorous dissent, in which Justice Reed concurred.

The majority decision held that there is no reason to overturn the Supreme Court ruling of 1922, written by the late Justice Holmes, in which it was decided unanimously that baseball is not subject to the nation's antitrust laws.

"We think," Warren said, "that if there are evils in this field which now warrant application to it of the antitrust laws, it should be by legislation."

The court's decision, Warren continued, was made "without re-examination of the underlying issues" and on the authority of the 1922 ruling that "Congress had no intention of including the business of baseball within the scope of the Federal antitrust laws."

Baseball men, from Commissioner Ford Frick on down, reported themselves as highly pleased with the decision.

Frick cautioned, however, that the ruling "does not mean that baseball is granted a license to do as it pleases."

"Until the decision was rendered, baseball was in a fog of uncertainty," he said. "Now the atmosphere has been cleared. From now on the responsibility is ours of modernizing baseball."

Rep. Keating commented: "I have always felt that baseball is primarily a sport and not a business. I think that is what the fans feel."

"However, our committee will, of course, consider with an open mind any legislation either to bring baseball squarely under the antitrust laws or exempt it expressly from its provisions."

Rep. Celler (D-N.Y.), who directed the baseball inquiry two years ago, was en route to Europe and unavailable for comment.

Three cases were before the high court in appeals on behalf of George Toolson, a former farm player for the New York Yankees; Walter J. Kowalski, a former Brooklyn farm player, and Jack Corbett, former owner of the El Paso, Tex., minor league club.

Lower courts had dismissed the actions of Toolson, Kowalski and Corbett on the precedent of the 1922 decision.

In appealing to the Supreme Court, the three argued that baseball's reserve clause violates the Constitution.

Today's decision did not decide that question one way or the other. It was to the effect that baseball is not subject to the anti-trust laws.

The reserve clause is a provision written into all baseball contracts to bind players to the clubs which "own" them. Their baseball services are completely controlled by the clubs which hold their contracts.

Attorneys arguing for the overthrow of the 1922 decision contended this clause puts baseball players in a position "equal to slavery."

Marion, Orioles Deal A Mystery; Decision To Be Made Today

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles and Marty Marion declined to tell today if he had struck out or will come to bat next year as manager of the new American League entry.

The decision will be made known tomorrow.

The delay indicated strongly that there's at least a hitch somewhere in bringing Marion here from St. Louis along with the Browns. He has a year to go on his contract with the Browns.

Marion and Art Ehlers, the Orioles general manager, spent four hours by themselves in a hotel room talking over Marion's status. Afterward, Ehlers said they had "an amicable chat and Marty's position is going to be determined in the next 24 hours when we will decide if he is going to be the manager next year."

Marion wasted no time in returning to St. Louis from whence he came this morning. His hurried departure was interpreted in some quarters to mean the announcement was delayed until tomorrow when he would be home.

The stringbean Marion made it clear that if the news is his release it wasn't his decision. He said he didn't intend to resign and "I want to manage the club very much."

LEAHY LAUDS LATTNER; PUZZLED BY UPSETS

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9 (AP)—publicity, the other players cool, Frank Leahy is not ready yet to place the mark of greatness on his present Notre Dame football player, but he'll concede one point—there's never been one freer of jealousies.

"If I had to use one word to describe these lads," the Irish head coach said today, "it would be unselfishness. I have never seen a bunch of boys so unselfish."

"Often when a team has one player who gets a great deal of attention, he's the cover boy to speak, with pictures on the front of magazines. He's been called our bread and butter boy."

"BUT INSTEAD of resenting him the boys all idolize him. They look up to him as a sort of hero. They think he's wonderful. It's this sort of spirit which has jelled our lads into the it is."

It was Lattner, a tow-head senior from Chicago's West side, who personally preserved Notre Dame's proud unbeaten record Saturday at Franklin Field where the Irish won over a surprisingly tough Penn. 28-20.

Erase Lattner's performances in that game and you, in effect, erase Notre Dame's sixth straight victory. He was the difference in an Irish triumph and a Penn upset.

A 60-minute double duty performance even in two-plateau days, the six-foot-one, 190-pound halfback ran back a kickoff 92 yards for one touchdown, set up two other scores with runbacks of 35 and 56 yards and then prevented a fourth Penn. touchdown with an end zone pass interception.

After the game, which the recently stricken coach said almost gave him a relapse, Leahy was heard to remark out loud: "Thank heaven for Lattner."

THE SOFT-SPEAKING master of South Bend said he wouldn't like to make team comparisons until the end of the season.

"It's impossible to play our type of schedule week-in and week-out without having a letdown. We are on the spot every week and have to come up with an inspired performance."

"Our lads haven't had a letdown yet and I'm worried about when it might come. We still must play North Carolina, Iowa, Southern California and SMU."

"Too, this is a season of upsets. It has me puzzled. I can't put my finger on the reason. I think it must be because of the new substitution rule but I can't nail it down."

"Michigan State losing to Purdue... Dartmouth gets beat 55-7 by Navy and then turns around to beat a good Yale team 32-0... Southern California loses to Oregon... it just doesn't figure and I keep wondering when it might happen to us."

"It makes one shiver."

Robinson Plays Leading Role In A's, Orioles Deal

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9 (AP)—Unless a lot of people are wrong the Philadelphia Athletics and Baltimore Orioles soon will make a deal with first baseman Eddie Robinson as the main pawn.

Earle Mack, a member of the newly created advisory board which is running the Philadelphia club, admitted the other day that the A's were interested in dealing Robinson to the Orioles. The big first baseman hit .247, 22 home runs and batted in 104 runs last season, but his slowness of foot and failure to hit consistently disappointed the management.

Robinson is a native of Baltimore and general manager Art Ehlers of the new Orioles believes the husky slugger would be a real drawing card. It was Ehlers who brought Robinson to the Athletics last winter in a deal that sent Ferris Fain to the Chicago White Sox. Ehlers, then G. M. of the A's, also obtained shortstop Joe Demaestri and outfielder Eddie McGee in the transaction.

THE BIG QUESTION is what do the eighth place Orioles have that could help the seventh place Athletics? Eddie Joost, the new skipper of the A's, said yesterday he isn't interested in trading for average ball players. He doesn't want uniform fillers. He admitted the need of a catcher, third baseman and some speed in his outfield.

Reportedly, the Orioles are offering pitcher Marlin Stuart, first baseman Dick Kryhoski and infielder Vernon Stephens for Robinson. The Mack brain trust has indicated that's not enough. Stuart and Kryhoski maybe, but they'd have to get either Clint Courtney, the bespectacled catcher; outfielder Roy Sievers or infielder Jim Dyck. It's not known whether Ehlers, the policeman in Boston, Don Healy's father is a lieutenant in Manchester, N. H.

Duke Drops from Top Ten Notre Dame Still Tops in Country

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—For the seventh straight week it's still Notre Dame running a strong No. 1 in the race for the season's college football championship.

The proud Irish of South Bend, who beat Pennsylvania 28-20 Saturday for their sixth straight victory, held top place in the Associated Press' poll today by collecting 79 of 125 No. 1 votes and a total of 1159 points.

Maryland, winner of eight straight games, stuck to Notre Dame's heels in the runnerup position but the other positions in the standings underwent a brisk shuffling.

Baylor, defeated by Texas 21-20, fell from third to ninth and Duke, held to a scoreless tie by Navy, dropped from tenth to 15th. Texas took over the No. 10 rung, the only newcomer this week to the fast circle.

Illinois, Michigan State and Georgia Tech all moved up a notch to take the Nos. 3, 4 and 5 places, respectively.

OKLAHOMA CLIMBED from eighth to sixth and UCLA from ninth to seventh as West Virginia, although one of the three remaining unbeaten and untied major elevens, skidded a rung to eighth.

The standings are decided on a poll of sports writers and broadcasters. This week a total of 125 cast ballots with more than half of them lining up behind coach Frank Leahy's fighting Irish.

At that, some inroads were made into Notre Dame's lead, probably because the Irish were hard-pressed to whip a Penn team which already had lost three games.

Maryland polled 24 first place votes and received 1,034 points, 125 back of the leading Irish. Last week Notre Dame enjoyed a 136-point lead. Maryland beat George Washington, 27-6.

Once-tied but unbeaten Illinois, 19-3 victor over Michigan, got only four first place votes but had strong backing as the second and third best team in the country.

1. Notre Dame (79) (6-0) 1159
2. Maryland (24) (6-0) 1034
3. Illinois (4) (6-0-1) 919
4. Michigan State (1) (6-1) 741
5. Georgia Tech (6-1-1) 681
6. Oklahoma (1) (5-1-1) 591
7. UCLA (6-1) 467
8. West Virginia (11) (7-0) 455
9. Baylor (6-1) 240
10. Texas (6-3) 240

The second ten: 11 Mississippi (2), 12 Southern California (2), 13 Kentucky (1), 14 Duke (6), 15 Minnesota (2), 16-17 (tie) Rice and Stanford 50, 18 Tennessee 49, 19 Texas Tech 47, 20 Auburn 23.

Baseball Wins Victory in Court; Declared Sport, Not Business

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Baseball won a major victory today when the Supreme Court ruled for the second time that, in the eyes of Federal law, the game is a sport and not an interstate business.

This means that baseball cannot be challenged in the courts as an illegal monopoly and that the game's controversial reserve clause will stay on the books unless Congress does something about it.

Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.), chairman of the monopoly subcommittee of the House Judiciary committee, said in the wake of the decision that he knows of no legislation in the works to put baseball under the anti-trust laws or to exempt it specifically.

He said, however, it was possible the Supreme Court decision might lead to the introduction of a bill that would clarify now Congress stands on the issue.

The monopoly subcommittee studied the question extensively two years ago, but took no action.

Chief Justice Warren read today's brief opinion, to which two justices dissented. It was a "per curiam" decision, that is, one issued by the court rather than under the signature of an individual justice. Apparently the court split 7-2 on the question.

Justice Burton got out a vigorous dissent, in which Justice Reed concurred.

The majority decision held that there is no reason to overturn the Supreme Court ruling of 1922, written by the late Justice Holmes, in which it was decided unanimously that baseball is not subject to the nation's antitrust laws.

"We think," Warren said, "that if there are evils in this field which now warrant application to it of the antitrust laws, it should be by legislation."

The court's decision, Warren continued, was made "without re-examination of the underlying issues" and on the authority of the 1922 ruling that "Congress had no intention of including the business of baseball within the scope of the Federal antitrust laws."

Baseball men, from Commissioner Ford Frick on down, reported themselves as highly pleased with the decision.

Frick cautioned, however, that the ruling "does not mean that baseball is granted a license to do as it pleases."

"Until the decision was rendered, baseball was in a fog of uncertainty," he said. "Now the atmosphere has been cleared. From now on the responsibility is ours of modernizing baseball."

Rep. Keating commented: "I have always felt that baseball is primarily a sport and not a business. I think that is what the fans feel."

"However, our committee will, of course, consider with an open mind any legislation either to bring baseball squarely under the antitrust laws or exempt it expressly from its provisions."

Rep. Celler (D-N.Y.), who directed the baseball inquiry two years ago, was en route to Europe and unavailable for comment.

Three cases were before the high court in appeals on behalf of George Toolson, a former farm player for the New York Yankees; Walter J. Kowalski, a former Brooklyn farm player; and Jack Corbett, former owner of the El Paso, Tex., minor league club.

Lower courts had dismissed the actions of Toolson, Kowalski and Corbett on the precedent of the 1922 decision.

In appealing to the Supreme Court, the three argued that baseball's reserve clause violates the Constitution.

Today's decision did not decide that question one way or the other. It was to the effect that baseball is not subject to the anti-trust laws.

The reserve clause is a provision written into all baseball contracts to bind players to the clubs which "own" them. Their baseball services are completely controlled by the clubs which hold their contracts.

Attorneys arguing for the overthrow of the 1922 decision contended this clause puts baseball players in a position "equal to slavery."

Duke Drops from Top Ten

Notre Dame Still Tops in Country

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—For the seventh straight week it's still Notre Dame running a strong No. 1 in the race for the season's college football championship.

The proud Irish of South Bend, who beat Pennsylvania 28-20 Saturday for their sixth straight victory, held top place in the Associated Press' poll.

Maryland, winner of eight straight games, stuck to Notre Dame's heels in the runnerup position but the other positions in the standings underwent a brisk shuffling.

Baylor, defeated by Texas 21-20, fell from third to ninth and Duke, held to a scoreless tie by Navy, dropped from tenth to 15th. Texas took over the No. 10 rung, the only newcomer this week to the first circle.

Illinois, Michigan State and Georgia Tech all moved up a notch to take the Nos. 3, 4 and 5 places, respectively.

OKLAHOMA CLIMBED from eighth to sixth and UCLA from ninth to seventh as West Virginia, although one of the three remaining unbeaten and untied major eleven, skidded a rung to eighth.

The standings are decided on a poll of sports writers and broadcasters. This week a total of 125 cast ballots with more than half of them lining up behind coach Frank Leahy's fighting Irish.

At that, some inroads were made into Notre Dame's lead, probably because the Irish were hard-pressed to whip a Penn team which already had lost three games.

Maryland polled 24 first place votes and received 1,034 points, 125 back of the leading Irish. Last week Notre Dame enjoyed a 156-point lead. Maryland beat George Washington, 27-6.

Once-tied but unbeaten Illinois, 19-3 victor over Michigan, got only four first place votes but had strong backing as the second and third best team in the country.

Here's the top ten based on points for a first place vote, nine for second, etc. (first place votes and team records in parentheses):

Points	Team	Record
1159	Notre Dame	(7-0)
1034	Maryland	(24-0)
919	Illinois	(4-0)
741	Michigan State	(1-0)
630	Georgia Tech	(6-1)
581	Oklahoma	(1-0)
467	UCLA	(6-1)
455	West Virginia	(11-7)
402	Baylor	(6-1)
240	Texas	(5-3)
127	The second ten	11: Mississippi (2-1); 12: Southern California (2-1); 13: Kentucky (1-1); 14: Duke (6-8); 15: Minnesota (2-16-17) Rice and Stanford 30; 18: Tennessee 40; 19: Texas Tech 47; 20: Auburn 23.

With Clarence Watts and Wayne Lindsay leading the way, and with four assists from Ray Snyder, Hatfield Junior High took an easy win over The Hill Juniors in the soccer clash. Watts and Ron Fretz scored in the first period, and in the second Watts tallied on a penalty kick and Lindsay scored twice. Gordon Simmons and Napoleon Broc notched Hill's only two points in the third period, and Watts led the game with another goal in the final stanza.

Area Autos Collide On Borough Street

Two cars were damaged yesterday morning in a collision on Charlotte street.

Police said a car driven by Jack L. Kuntzman, Pottstown RD 2, and Keith Romain Stalenecker, Pottstown RD 4, collided at 7:45 a. m.

Kuntzman told police he was traveling north on Charlotte street toward a stopped bus facing in the other direction. He said the car operated by Stalenecker pulled out from behind the bus, causing damage to the left front fender, left door, headlight and part of the bumper on his car.

No report on the damage to the other car was made. No one was injured in the accident, police said.

STREET PROGRAM —

ordinance establishing no-parking on North Franklin street, from High to Beech streets.

The unpopular law was passed at the September session of council when Griffith broke a 9-9 deadlock. The burgess-favored the law banning all parking.

RESIDENTS immediately launched a protest campaign. They pointed to the one-way parking on nearby streets and to the four churches in the community which require parking.

They complained they had to walk blocks from cars to homes. Griffith later advised residents to submit a petition to council.

Stranger read the petition last night. Since the new traffic plan calls for North Franklin street to handle one-way north traffic only, Knause said there is no reason to continue the parking ban.

The ban initially was approved to decrease the accident menace created by protruding trees along the narrow street.

Knause asked for immediate relief for residents along Franklin street.

He said, "I believe at the September meeting we passed an ordinance banning parking on Franklin street. I would like to see the ban lifted."

GRIFITH interrupted, "Temporarily I've ordered the police department not to enforce the signs down there."

Stranger moved the ban be lifted. Before a vote was taken Paul P. Kohler, Second ward, demanded, "Are the signs going to come down?"

"I still feel we shouldn't tell our citizens to disobey signs. I say either the signs come down or we enforce the ordinance."

Kohler, who reminded fellow members he was against the ordinance "from the beginning," was assured by Stranger the signs would come down.

The ban was unanimously revoked.

Knause, in explaining his original vote in favor of the ordinance, said "I always stick with the recommendations of the committee. And that's what they wanted."

THE TRAFFIC plan includes the following streets:

1. Parry place north from West High to West Buttonwood streets.
2. York street south from Beech to High streets.
3. Penn street north from High to Beech streets.
4. Reading concourse south from High street to the Reading station and east from the station to Hanover street.
5. Charlotte street north from Laurel to High streets.
6. Evans street south from Oak to Laurel streets.
7. Franklin street north from Water street to Jefferson avenue.
8. Washington street south from Jefferson avenue to Water streets.

500 Local Teachers, PTA Members To Attend Discussions Here Nov. 16

More than 500 Pottstown teachers and members of Parent-Teachers associations are expected to attend a first major PTA parley Nov. 16 at the Senior High school auditorium.

The meeting will be concerned with a general discussion of changing trends in public education.

With Dr. George A. McCormick, superintendent of schools, as moderator, brief talks will be delivered by Harvard E. Fosnocht, elementary school principal; William D. Mower, Junior High school principal; Lewis F. Maraffie, school psychologist; and Stanley I. Davenport Jr., Senior High school principal.

Each of the men will speak on his particular phase of education and the changes and problems involved.

THE MEETING, to open at 7:45 p. m., will start with an invocation by the Rev. Eugene B. Um...

smut and what isn't smut is the core of the problem."

J. Wayne Knause, Seventh ward, asked, "What would such a committee be expected to do. It seems to me a difficult problem to sift out the unacceptable from the acceptable."

Griffith said on smut, "It's a very knotty problem."

"I'm sure I'm not an authority on the problem. Sometimes the more stirring you do, the more stink is created."

"Any citizen can come to me or a magistrate and swear out a warrant."

Howard Hoffman, 1334 South street, appeared in council to oppose the one-way traffic on North Franklin street. He pointed to confusion which is "bound to result."

Stranger told Hoffman he would be willing to discuss his objections after the plan is put in blueprint form.

The police committee chairman added, "I'm only one person in here. We want to put this thing down on paper and then work out all difficulties."

Sanatoga Fire Company Sets Elections for Dec. 14

The Sanatoga Fire company announced last night that nomination and election of officers would be held at a Dec. 14 meeting.

Four members currently are attending an advanced course of the fire school in Pottstown. They are Frank Keim, Francis Donohue, Steve Weissner and Robert Brant.

The company reported three calls answered during October, but all were minor ones according to President W. E. Knight, who presided at last night's meeting.

The 15 members present accepted two new members into the company.

Bible Federation Will Dine Tonight

Wives of Pottstown Bible Federation members won't have to think about planning an evening meal tonight.

It's the Federation's annual ladies night, and wives will accompany their husbands to a turkey banquet to be held at 6:30 o'clock in the Pottstown youth center on Firestone boulevard.

The dinner will be followed by a program in charge of H. Bert Shaw, county Federation president, who will act as toastmaster.

Principal speaker will be the Rev. Dr. Frederick E. Maser, district superintendent of the Methodist Church.

Music will include solos by Gordon Shanabrook, baritone, and the Messengers quartet.

resembles Ichabod Crane in build and speed.

Albert "Whitey" Hornberger, 510 East Vine street, Stowe, captured third prize of $2 for a tip on the extensive damage done by vandals to Pottstown's nearly-finished West End school.

Once again, judges awarded two bonus $1 prizes, in addition to the $10 in standard prizes awarded every week.

Bonus winners this week were Joseph Kopcho, 1022 Queen street, for a story of a rat that hid dog food in an old organ, and to Mrs. Robert Hoffmush, Perkiomenville RD 1, for a story on a skunk that got hopelessly wedged between stones under her house.

With snow and ice on the ground, there's bound to be a bumper crop of news items this week. Whether it's a spill on ice or a kid's thrill with an unusual snowman, let The Mercury know. Just call 6000.

Charge of Tipsiness Lodged Against Man

A 70-year-old Pottstown man was arrested last night on a charge of being drunk and disorderly in the Star Restaurant, 12 South Hanover street.

Police identified the man as Herbert Brown of State street, and said he had created a disturbance at the restaurant, pushing a waitress who asked him to leave.

Police said Brown resisted arrest. He was held overnight at borough hall, where a hearing will be held tonight at 6:30 o'clock before Police Justice Raymond Kelley. Bail was set at $25.

Sgt. Thomas A. Lawler and Motor Patrolman Stanley Borowy investigated.

Two-Day Conference In Youth Leadership Will Be Held Here

A two-day Youth Leadership conference will be held at Library hall on Nov. 30 and Dec. 1, it was announced last night following a meeting of the YMCA teen-age advisory board.

Main speakers for the two-day session will be Mr. and Mrs. Ben Solomon, of New York City, who have conducted similar conferences in various parts of the country.

On Monday, Nov. 30, only an evening session will be held but on Tuesday, meetings will be held in the morning, afternoon and evening.

The conference is open to all parents and to all professional and volunteer youth workers.

Registration will cost $1 for all four sessions, or 50 cents per session.

The conference, according to Mrs. Howard Heath secretary of the advisory board, is being backed by all organizations in town—including all service clubs, the Ministerial association, the CYO, women's clubs, and Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts.

The next meeting of the advisory board will be held in December with Montgomery county Judge Harold G. Knight as main speaker.

persons who already have given might reconsider and give a second contribution to bring their total up to "fair-share" giving for the combined drive.

The classified division team captains met at noon in the Shuler house. Presiding were division leaders Benjamin H. Longaker and Thomas A. McCaslin 3d.

Among the teams that are lagging are hotels and restaurants, with only $139 given toward a $260 quota; insurance and real estate, with $1800 toward a quota of $2500; doctors, with only $5347 toward a quota of $7800, and mercantile, with only $3482 toward a quota of $8750.

Woman Is Hospitalized After Falling Down Stairs

A 74-year-old Pottstown woman was in Memorial hospital yesterday for X-raying and treatment of back and shoulder injuries suffered in a fall down the steps inside her home.

Mrs. Hattie Loughlin, 1070 South street, slipped on the top stair and fell nearly the length of the stairs Sunday afternoon. She injured her left arm as well as the shoulder and back. A Good Will ambulance took her to the hospital.

FAMILIES FIGHT —

ray, 510 South Main street, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald R. Quay, 331 Washington street, and Ralph C. Ullman, 300 South Church street.

They were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Adams, 510 Washington street, Royersford, and Paul's brother, Joseph, 264 Washington street, Royersford. The other member in the party was Curtis Berwanger, Sanatoga.

The two threads traced by the course of the hunting parties wound their way northward across the State, into the mountains and came together at the cabin sites.

Here they were knotted and frozen fast by a 30-inch blizzard of snow.

"It started snowing Friday night at 5 o'clock," Mrs. Murray said last night, "and it kept snowing for 24 hours. When it finally stopped, there were 30 inches of snow blocking everything."

TALKING about it from the safety of her home last night, Mrs. Murray admitted to a few moments of doubt but lightly passed over them, chatting about the adventure as if it had been a picnic.

The cheery attitude, though, didn't cover the serious facts underneath.

"We were running out of food," Mrs. Murray said. "We had planned on getting more food on Saturday. On Saturday we could just get outside the cabin. We had our last meal this morning (Monday). Then there was no more."

"We ate things we never eat at home," she laughed. "We just threw everything we had together and cooked it. They came out as pretty original recipes, like meat pie from bits of ham, boiled rice together with cream of mushroom soup and then, potatoes and ketchup."

"We couldn't even get water. We boiled snow to drink."

"Nobody washed until somebody told them, 'You're pretty bad.'"

With food for themselves running out, they did have some for 21-month Ciprian Jr., when they heard he was up at the cabin a mile away.

Sylvester pushed his way through the drifts to the next cabin to tell them. It wasn't easy going.

"I had started out once before," he said. "I got as far as 25 feet from the cabin and had to turn back. When I finally got there I was really sweating."

"When I told them of the baby, they gave me a can of apple sauce for him, some Jello and an orange. It was wonderful. I never saw anything like it."

TRYING to find their way back home, the men decided to tramp

the businessman (whose name State police are withholding). Bethlehem Steel company's erection staff put up $200 with which to "buy" four of the bargain-priced impact wrenches. The man came to Pottstown and fell into the trap, going to the businessman's office and selling the wrenches under the noses, so to speak, of Hoppe and the State troopers.

As suspected, the wrenches had the same serial numbers as the ones on some of the stolen wrenches.

The State police and Hoppe stayed on the visitor's trail and after a three-day investigation had him arrested. In his car, police reported, were about $3000 worth of stolen tools.

DIFFENDERFER was committed to Lehigh county prison in default of $3000 bail on a larceny charge, pending completion of the investigation. In the meantime, Diffenderfer is maintaining stoutly that the stolen tools were given him by "Slim."

Among the things stolen from the Pottstown erection department were air riveting hammers, hoists and rivet guns. Police said Diffenderfer had worked on the Lehigh river bridge job until the past Aug. 28. The thefts occurred on Sept. 19 and Oct. 27.
